

Michigan To Clean Up 'Dives'

Norman Baker
(HIMSELF)

"Hello folks"

JOHN IS GONE—fine fellow that he was—a hard worker—honest—conscientious, always striving to do his best. Many are the hours that I have stopped in the Free Press rooms and seen John Wilson at work in the wee small hours of the morning—not always alone—his wife at his side while he was dictating the mail, neglected during the day by lack of time—never was there a more devoted wife—and family.

His first thought was always for them—not a thing they requested that was in his power to give, but what he GAVE. For about 3 YEARS, I had the opportunity, while he was in my employ, to study him—he had the making of a good newspaperman—he figured on entering business for himself—he resigned as a gentleman, giving due notice and all wished him THE BEST—for some reason unknown to me, his expected plans did not materialize, but had they, he would have been successful. A sadder blow could not befall anyone—THE FREE PRESS, TNT MAGAZINE and other Baker Enterprise employees, all sadly join with me in our spirit of condolence to his good wife, whom all learned to respect as they did John. He was just plain "John" to us. Life is such a mystery, such a puzzle, such unexpected happenings that it makes us all WONDER. John is gone, gone in physical body but NOT IN MEMORY.

COME EVERYBODY—big "meet" at Atkins, Iowa, Tuesday, August 18th—"Jake" the fighting Dutchman from Cedar County, and everybody will be there. Come learn the truth—friends and enemies alike—if you refuse to hear—to listen—to learn, then you may pity—the TRUTH hurts no one, and many truths pierce the air at these meetings. Speaking at 8 P. M. Atkins is a short distance from Cedar Rapids—NORTH. Boys, don't forget Wellman, Iowa, August 22nd, Sat. eve. at 8 P. M. Bodyguards and everything going, even O'Leary and Bill, and the shorthand reporter.

$27,000 LOST—who can find it—K-TNT has been closed since June 12th—that means many thousands of people staying out of Muscatine—that means about $27,000 spent elsewhere—that means our merchants are short $27,000—the city's "second party" crew, celebrated one night—the loss to our merchants—OH WELL—what care they—they, some of them like it, they still give them, their advertising—they seem to like the "tickling and rubbing in part"—indoor pastimes.

HOW'S THIS FARMERS—according to Dr. Curtis Brigham—an authority—tuberculin testing causes CONAGIOUS ABORTION—contagious abortion causes UNBORN CURE—what's going to become of your cows—think it over—the fighting farmers of Cedar county, know their onions—others should awaken—Gov. Dan Turner—should scratch the wool off his eyes, before someone unseats him—Attorney General Fletcher also—and Thornburg—and—well, the whole gang.

GROCERIES—a Mr. B.—of this city had been buying groceries for a long, long time of a West Second street grocer—his bill had run up to about 60 bucks—he walked into the store—paid his bill and said—"Do you advertise in the Free Press?"—"No" the grocer said—"OK"—this is the last dollar you get from me—No Free Press advertising—no orders from me—That's loyalty—some of you other good local stockholders, subscribers and readers, TRY IT—it works fine—read our columns and patronize those who patronize the paper that fights for you—YOU the farmer, laborer and common folks—NOT WALL STREET—the latter stick together like glue—and if we other folks did the same we would all get to—her—let's take a lesson from them.

N. BAKER TELLS FARMERS THERE IS A WAY OUT

Organization of One Body Only Means Of Salvation

OXFORD JUNCTION, Ia.—(Special)—A thundering denunciation of office holders who make of the farmer a political football and of capitalists who are taking what the farmer produces without giving him adequate returns, was delivered by Norman Baker, Muscatine publisher and business man, in a fiery address here Saturday evening. Mr. Baker talked for more than an hour and during all that time held the interest of the 3,500 persons attracted to this town to hear him speak.

The audience was so large they could not be accommodated in the dance hall, so Mr. Baker mounted to the top of the pavilion and spoke from there.

A way out of their difficulties and means of overcoming the present depression which has caused the farmer, as a class, considerable trouble, was offered by the speaker. This way, he said, was for all rural residents and small business men to cooperate and form one farm organization, instead of trying to fight their battles by divided units.

Outlines Plan

Speaking of farm relief, Mr. Baker for the first time outlined a definite program of how the farmers could get themselves out of the mire with one farm organization. He said the remedy would be, after the single organization had been perfected, to take the government money now being used by the various farm organizations and with it make a general fund from which the farmer could borrow, up to a certain amount, on his grain, through the local branch. The organization would hold a mortgage on the farm—grain and when the farmer sold the grain he would repay the organization the sum borrowed with a small amount of interest.

This would force the local stock capitalist and the farmer to get the grain boards to seek out the farmer and the farmer could force them to pay his price. A system of this kind would cause the farmer to be some independent in his own right and he would not be forced to sell his crops at bottom prices as he is now being forced to do.

Much interest was manifested in Mr. Baker's assertion that he believed, during the latter part of September, a meeting would be held at the farm of the state to perfect one farm organization and he suggested the slogan be

HOUSEMAID IS HELD IN THEFT

Charged With Stealing $75,000 in Gems Off Du Ponts

CHICAGO.—(INS)—Said to have worked as a maid in the home of Mrs. Ernest Du Pont of Wilmington, Del., Mrs. Alma Ludwig, 38, was under arrest Saturday night charged with having stolen $75,000 worth of jewels from the Du Pont residence.

Mrs. Ludwig was arrested Saturday afternoon in a north side pawnshop after offering according to detectives, to give the pawnbroker $70,000 of the Du Pont jewels for "just a few hundred dollars."

Police said that the former maid admitted having taken the jewelry from Mrs. Du Pont's bedroom on the third day of her employment there. She left the Delaware mansion August 1.

Mrs. Ludwig also told police, it is alleged that she sold a $15,000 bracelet to a man in New York for $100.

Carrying the $60,000 worth of jewels in a knotted scarf, the domestic registered at a hotel upon her arrival here, police said, and then went in search of a pawnshop. She said she was badly in need of money.

The pieces of jewelry seized included a platinum bracelet set with 136 diamonds and 37 emeralds, a platinum bracelet set with costly marquise diamonds, sixteen other diamonds and nine emeralds, a third bracelet set with 46 diamonds each of one karat, a platinum ring and a wrist watch set with diamonds and emeralds.

The WEATHER man says

MUSCATINE: BUNRISE, 4:15; SUNSET, 7:04.

IOWA: Mostly fair, but some cloudiness Sunday and Monday; not much change in temperature.

ILLINOIS, INDIANA AND MISSOURI: Mostly fair Sunday and probably Monday; not much change in temperature.

WISCONSIN: Mostly fair Sunday and probably Monday, but some cloudiness; warmer Sunday, in north portion.

Arrested As Aid to Michigan Torch Slayers

The above picture shows Miss Catherine E. Keller, 25 year old blonde, niece and ward of the late Municipal Judge Darwin Z. Curtis of Ann Arbor, Mich. She was arrested as an aid of the three murderers of the four high school children. She admits being with the slayers on the night of the killings. It was in her home that blood stained clothing belonging to Fred Smith was found.

LINDBERGH SET FOR SIBERIA HOP HEARING ASKED

Mrs. Lindbergh Keeps U. S. Informed on Hop by Radio

ST. PAUL, Alaska.—(INS)—Colonel Lindbergh and his wife, the former Mrs. Anne Morrow, boarded off from Karamia Island at 5:33 a. m. Pacific coast time Saturday.

The Lindberghs took off from Karamia Island for Petropavlovsk on the next step in their aerial vacation trip to Japan the 450-mile hop down the Kamchatka peninsula is expected to take about four and a half hours.

ST. PAUL, Alaska.—(INS)—With prospects of good weather for the next hop of their aerial vacation trip from Washington to Tokyo, Japan, Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were preparing late Saturday to take off between 4 and 5 p. m. Pacific standard time from Karamia Island for Petropavlovsk, Siberia.

The United States Naval Radio station here was advised by Mrs. Lindbergh of plans for the "hopoff."

The naval station immediately contacted JOC, a Japanese naval station, and received late weather reports covering most of the 450 mile hop.

No direct word had been received from Petropavlovsk as to weather conditions there but indirect reports indicated good flying weather.

The flight down the Kamchatka Peninsula was expected to take about four and a half hours.

The Lindberghs have two more jumps before reaching Tokyo. The next one will take them from Petropavlovsk to Nemuro in the Kurile Islands, a distance of 900 miles. Their last hop will be direct to Tokyo, a distance of 600 miles.

Behind them lay the long jumps over Canada, the north west territory, Alaska and the 1,097 mile

JAPANESE FINE U. S. AVIATORS

Hugh Herndon's and Pangborn's Trouble Ended at Tokyo

TOKYO.—(INS)—With the difficulties of Hugh Herndon, Jr. and Clyde Pangborn, ended by the world aviators, ended by their prompt payment of a $2,050 fine for violation of Japan's strict espionage regulations, Japanese and American officials here turned their attention Saturday night to reception plans for Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

The Lindberghs are expected here Monday or Tuesday at the latest and government officials, aeronautical organizations and Japanese society are planning to outdo themselves in entertaining the famous flying couple.

The difficulties of Herndon and Pangborn served to awake unprecedented interest in American aeronautical exploits, even though the round the world fliers suffered discomfort and embarrassment as the result of their troubles.

In fining them $1,025 each, the authorities cut down by two-thirds the usual fine provided for photographing fortified areas and disregarded entirely the prison term of three years maximum penalty for the offense.

MARTIAL LAW IS SEEN IN TEXAS OIL FIELD AREA

Governor Orders Out 1,800 National Guardsmen

AUSTIN, Texas.—(INS)—After mobilizing approximately 1,800 national guard troops with the announced intention of putting East Texas oil fields under martial law, Governor Ross Sterling suddenly changed his mind late Saturday night and announced that he would not immediately issue a martial law proclamation.

AUSTIN, Tex.—(INS)—Approximately 1,800 Texas national guard troops were camped under arms Saturday night, awaiting orders from Governor Ross Sterling to move into the troubled east Texas oil field area.

The troops were hastily mobilized Saturday afternoon at the town of Amarillo, Tex., by telegraphic instructions from the governor. They had received no movement orders at an early hour, but they expected them before midnight Saturday.

The governor, meanwhile, was en route from Houston to Austin and it was reported at the capitol that he would issue a martial law proclamation Saturday night.

Whether the governor has decided to shut down East Texas oil wells, as he has been urged on all sides, or to continue the martial law to forestall possible trouble in the oil fields, was not learned.

Secrecy Surrounds Plans

Great secrecy surrounded the entire procedure. The mobilization orders were issued by the governor from his home in Houston Saturday morning and troops were unarmored in three areas before the public learned of the mobilization.

Governor Sterling refused to say for what purpose he called out the troops, or whether they would be ordered into the oil fields.

"The governor has not said anything," he said, "but I have ordered mobilization. What I have ordered mobilization."

SOLON'S SECRET ROMANCE BARED

Senator Wounded in $112 a Month 'Love Apartment'

NEW YORK.—(INS)—A mysterious and possibly fatal shooting in an upper west side "love nest" has brought to light the secret romance of "Ruth Hayne," a pretty small-town girl from Media, Pa., and Senator Roy T. Yates, of Paterson, N. J., a prominent politician and banker, and threatens to present the authorities with a case of major importance.

Saturday night, Senator Yates was in a hospital here, struggling to remain alive, a bullet wound in his abdomen. He was shot in Miss Hayne's apartment yesterday during a drinking party. They were alone.

A blood transfusion, the second he had undergone, was resorted to late Saturday in an effort to save the life of the politician. A friend of the politician's was reported to have donated the blood.

Hayne, whose real name is Ruth Crammer, is under arrest. She has persisted in her story that she and the senator were so intoxicated that she did not know what happened. She claims he started to choke her after an argument over her maintenance. The rent on her apartment was $12 per month. It seems the senator, a married man and the father of three children, thought she should move into a cheaper place. He was quoted as having said during their quarrel: "Times are hard, I guess you know about the economic depression."

Beauty War Is Now Raging In Hollywood Film Circles

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—(INS)—A beauty war Saturday—vied with courts of law for the limelight that Hollywood loves so well.

With numerous big names on the legal records to prove that it doesn't require a divorce suit to bring a movie star into court, filmdom was startled when ten Fox and Allied publicists withdrew from Wampas, an association of screen advertising men.

Two beautiful women were the cause of it all—that is, the cause of the split in the Wampas ranks.

The Fox press agents quit Wampas when that organization failed to select Helen Mack, redhead, and Linda Watkins, a blonde, both from the New York stage, among the 13 "baby stars" of 1931, over whom Dolores Del Rio reigns as "queen."

Other members of Wampas replied they were sorry that the Fox beauties were not selected, but pointed out that the balloting was secret, and anyway there were so many names that it was difficult to select the "lucky 13."

Hollywood "went legal" as Richard Barthelmess, Hoot Gibson, Prince David Milvian, Merna Kennedy and Greta Nissen started suits were named, or appeared in court cases.

Barthelmess sued three brokerage firms for return of $72,225 in stock which he said belonged to him and which he charged the defendants had pledged illegally as securities.

Gibson, the cowboy star, was the 15th filed by James Hum, a production manager.

Would You Do This—Live or Dead? Usual Journal Tactics

All of us may have our likes and dislikes, but all of us as a rule will agree, that when a person dies—that ends ALL. At death, all personal grievances, petty jealousies and enmity should CEASE, for the reason that the person is gone and cannot respond.

We can forget and forgive those who attack while we are alive, but when one tries to make a SENSATION out of a SAD TRAGEDY, like the Journal seemingly did, IT IS GOING TOO FAR.

A few days ago, the terrible tragedy regarding John H. Wilson's death was discovered. Mr. Randall, our editor, and one of the Journal staff, were at the scene. A note was found in Mr. Wilson's pocket, it pertained to his good wife and family, a note of LOVE TO THEM, of assurance that he loved them and was true to them, and asking for forgiveness for his deed.

Mr. Randall suggested to the Journal man that the note was not of public interest and that the contents should not be printed in respect for Wilson's dear wife and family. It was agreed. The Free Press did not mention the contents of the note, but the Journal in their first issue said:

Note Tells of Grief

A blood-stained note was found in the pocket of his coat hinting at family and financial troubles and asking forgiveness of his family for taking his own life.

How ungentlemanly, discourteous and unfair. Those who knew Mr. Wilson, knew that no man loved his wife and family more than he. He was a perfect gentleman at all times. It may be true that Clyde Rabedaux permitted those words to be printed about a dead man because Mr. Wilson attended the Chamber of Commerce meetings when it was first formed and was the first man to pay his $10.00 membership fee, thus showing his good faith. At times Wilson took sides, on the floor there, contrary to the likes of Mr. Rabedaux who also attended, but Wilson never quarreled with him. He was not of the "stupid" group.

(men are more hide-bound than women, and treat some of these things indifferently) should resent this kind of abuse upon one dead and his family. His poor wife has just undergone an operation, was even too weak to come to Muscatine when notified of the terrible tragedy, and the Journal, not content with that, tries to do place a stain upon all concerned.

It is not an unusual policy of the Journal under Clyde Rabedaux's guidance, to do these things. We have repeatedly shown in past articles where he permitted the reputation of a woman and others to be run down, seemingly glorifying in attacking someone's reputation.

We recall the case of the little woman who was married at K-TNT. She was from a little town west of us and close by—she married a good farmer down in Illinois. They were married before the microphone at K-TNT. For no other reason, perhaps, than to discredit the work of station K-TNT, Clyde Rabedaux permitted the case to be printed in his columns, with large black headlines, an attack on the woman's reputation, stamping her down into the mire by deliberately taking the time and expense of seeking out some little thing of her earlier life, and exposing it to the public.

A woman's reputation is all she has—once ruined or marred—it is gone for life. A man's reputation can be of the worst today and tomorrow, the world will honor him. For that reason, a woman's reputation should be guarded—even though she may take a misstep, of what interest is that to the public? Show me a man or woman who has attained the age of 21, who has not done something or other in their life that they are ashamed of, which would be pleasant reading when published, and I will point my finger at a GOD.

Was it an attempt to indirectly discredit the work of station K-TNT, or was it a paper, Norman Baker or what?

We cannot govern anyone's actions but our own or our employees', and it shall not be our policy, to besmirch the reputation of any dead man or his family, or to hide behind A-CORPSE like Clyde did in the case of the elderly gentleman dying in a grocery store on 6th street and having Clyde say "He was formerly a patient of the Baker Hospital" for which he later apologized in his columns, as he later apologizes for his remarks about Mr. Wilson.

Such apologies are not accepted by the public, by intelligent, thoughtful and sincere men and women. Some day Mr. Asper, who permits all of this, will awaken to the fact that Clyde will eventually spill some beans that will ruin for a journey and a doubt, these contemptible tactics of his will no longer be tolerated by many of his readers.

The Free Press circulation in this city is growing each day—thank you all, and in reciprocity for your good loyal support we shall KEEP OUR COLUMNS CLEAN—when we attack, it will be on live men, NOT DEAD ONES, or their families.

—NORMAN BAKER.

PAUL WHITEMAN TO WED AGAIN

CHICAGO.—(INS)—Paul Whiteman, nationally known orchestra leader, will be married for the third time Tuesday when he steps to the altar with Margaret Livingston, Hollywood star, Whiteman announced Saturday night.

The marriage will take place in Denver, Colo., at the Whiteman home.

Announcement of Whiteman's coming marriage confirmed rumors which have been current ever since the "king of jazz" divorced his second wife Vanda Hoff, here last March.

ARREST 5 MORE IN CONNECTION WITH MURDERS

Governor Orders an Organized Drive Against Vice

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(INS)—Still stunned, still scarcely able to realize the atrociousness of the crime, a horror-stricken countryside Saturday night watched the threefold developments in the sensational and sordid Washtenaw county torch murders of four youngsters still in their teens. Developments were:

1. Forces of law and order mobilized for an organized drive against blindpigs and roadside dives which cater to gin-crazed rascals. Governor Wilbur Brucker ordered the cleanup. Wholesale raids were expected throughout Michigan during the week-end as the state police force was augmented by 30 new troopers.
2. Arrest of five persons other than the three human fiends—Fred Smith, Frank Oliver and David Blackstone, a negro—who already have been incarcerated in the state penitentiary for the remainder of their lives.
3. Burial of the victims of the horrible "petting party" tragedy. Vivian Gold, 15, and Anna May Harrison, 17, were buried at Cleveland, Ohio. Thomas Wheatley and Harry Lore, their 16-year-old boy friends who lost their lives in the vain attempt to protect the honor of the two girls, were laid to rest in Washtenaw county.

Cleanup Ordered

Governor Brucker ordered every sheriff in the 83 counties of the state to cleanup their districts. The chief executive promised that "We'll rid the state of every hoodlum resort."

The five held are two farmer boys, whose names were disclosed, Miss Katherine Keller, 25, blonde, dress sweetheart of Smith, Howard Swisher, 16, allegedly gave a ride to Blackstone, the negro, and Ole Olson, landowner of the place.

According to the reports, the farmer lads, both under 20, were named in Smith's confession to seven other "petting parties" held on the many shaded "lovers' lanes" in the rolling hills of lower Michigan. In one of the bandit forays, a white girl was assaulted by a negro.

In Solitary Confinement

Smith and his two fiend companions are in solitary confinement cells in Jackson penitentiary, closely guarded lest they twist minds and prompt them to commit suicide, according to Warden Harry Jackson. Mrs. George Smith, blind mother of Smith, visited her son in the prison Saturday.

"The woman is responsible," the mother sobbed. "She led you into this. She took you to blindpigs and took you away from home at night. She ought to be away—to save other boys."

That was the bitter indictment of the mother against Miss Keller. Held in jail here, the comely blonde, nice and ward of the law, told Darwin Curtis, denies any knowledge of the torch killings or other crimes. She said that "I still love Smith."

Loved Ones Buried

Parents of the victims, unable to comprehend that it was their children who departed merrily for a ride last Monday night to be shot, clubbed, strangled and buried, buried their loved ones Saturday.

The first services were for young Wheatley. His mother fainted and his father was in a daze and, visibly trembling. Then, almost the same funeral procession which laid Wheatley to rest paid honor at the last rites of Harry Lore.

The Rev. Marshall S. Reed officiated at the Lore funeral. Over the coffin of the boy, he preached: "It is better to die like men than to live like beasts. It is better to die honorably than to live in dishonor."

Joint services were held for the two girls in Cleveland. They led that city several days ago in anticipation of a joyous vacation and returned there, horribly disfigured by fire, in their hearse.

STORM MOVING TOWARD MIAMI

MIAMI, Fla.—(INS)—Center of tropical disturbance in the Caribbean was located by the local weather bureau Saturday night as less than 100 miles off the coast of Yucatan, and approximately 20 miles due south of Cozumel Island.

Position of the storm, as compared with its previous position, indicates a recurve northwestward had set in during the day and the disturbance now apparently is headed in the general direction of the Yucatan channel, according to the Miami weather bureau.

BANDITS GET $2,500

CHICAGO.—(INS)—Each brandishing a revolver, three bandits Saturday robbed the Stein jewelry store here and escaped with $2,500 in jewelry and watches.

MRS. HOXSEY'S NOT BLAMED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Jury Returns an Open Verdict in Ralph Bouie's Death

Mrs. Harry Hoxsey, 613 Woodlawn avenue, whose automobile was alleged to have "sided-swiped" a car driven by Ray Sopher of Davenport, Thursday evening, forcing it off the pavement near Montpelier, where it injured Ralph Bouie, 7, so severely that he died at Hershey hospital shortly afterwards, was not held to blame for the accident at an inquest Friday evening.

Seven witnesses were called to the stand. They are Sopher, Harold La Grange, uncle of the victim, who was walking with him when the accident happened; Mrs. Agnes Lantz, an aunt of Sopher who was riding in the latter's automobile; Nelson Dixon of Rock Island, who was driving behind the Sopher car; Mrs. Hoxsey and two passengers in her car; Mr. Carl E. Hilsboro, 2011 E. and Mrs. Erma Millage, 613 Woodlawn avenue, this city. The coroner's jury consisted of Dr. R. S. McNitt, Ed Sander and Art Lyons.

Testimony Conflicting
Although testimony of the three women in the Hoxsey automobile conflicted as to their movement after they had left Muscatine about noon Thursday to go to Moline where Mrs. Hoxsey had her dog cared for at a dog kennel, they all testified they knew nothing of the accident until Dixon and Sopher overtook them on the outskirts of Muscatine. They all remembered passing the Sopher car, they testified, as this automobile was being driven in the middle of the road, but none were aware that a man and boy were walking along the pavement at that point.

The inquest started at 10 a. m. Friday but was adjourned at noon just before Mrs. Hoxsey took the stand. When the inquest was resumed at 2 p. m. Mrs. Hoxsey had consulted her attorney, H. B. Bartlett, and he was present while she gave her testimony.

The questioning of witnesses was done by Harold Wilson, county attorney, who also took dispositions of the case.

Both Cars Examined
Following the examining of witnesses, members of the coroner's jury examined both the Hoxsey and Sopher automobiles, both of which, it is alleged bore marks on the fenders where the two cars had come together.

In his testimony, Sopher declared that the "side-swiping" appeared to have been done intentionally by Mrs. Hoxsey.

The complete report of the jury is as follows: "That Ralph Bouie came to his death at Hershey hospital as the result of having been run over by a Ford car on highway No. 61, said Ford car driven by one Harry Hoxsey, whose car was side-swiped or struck by a Studebaker sedan driven by Mrs. Harry Hoxsey, when passing around the Sopher automobile. Death was caused by crushing of the chest and abdomen."

The body of the Bouie youth was removed to Davenport and funeral services will be held today at 2:30 p. m. from the Horrigan Home for Funerals there. Burial will be in Oakdale cemetery.

He was born July 1, 1924 at Davenport. For practically his entire life he lived with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. LaGrange at Montpelier.

H. STEIN BOUND TO GRAND JURY

Officers Say Liquor Found in Car; Out On $500 Bonds

Following his waiver of preliminary hearing when arraigned before Justice J. C. Coster Saturday afternoon on a charge of transporting intoxicating liquor, Harold Stein was bound over to the grand jury. His bond was fixed at $500 which he furnished.

Stein was arrested by Chief of Police Mark Taylor and Deputy Menzo Grady at the intersection of Green street and Hershey avenue. The officers claim they found a quantity of liquor in his car when they stopped it.

Shortly after Stein was brought to the police station Tony Fuller appeared. Asked what he wanted Fuller pointed to the alleged liquor and declared it belonged to him. Fuller was not held.

Contest to Name Theater Ends; 600 Send Suggestions

With more than 600 names submitted, the contest to select a name for the new theater, being constructed by Ludy Bosten on East Third street, closed at midnight Saturday. The committee in charge of selecting the winner will meet Tuesday evening and announcement of the award will be made on Tuesday or Wednesday, Mr. Bosten announced.

MUSCATINE MECCA FOR SUFFERERS

Who Praise the Baker Hospital

While organized medicine continues its campaign of propaganda, against the Baker Hospital, Muscatine continues to be the mecca for hundreds of sufferers throughout the land. Letters are received daily, according to hospital authorities, from former patients who write to tell the happiness they feel because they came here. A sample letter follows:

Baker Hospital, Muscatine, Iowa, Gentlemen:—

I presume I am like many others very anxious to tell of the wonderful results I have obtained at the Baker Hospital. Possibly I should first describe my particular ailment and then the world can see why I am happy with the results I have received from your treatments.

About three months ago I noticed two small lumps, possibly as large as a pea in the corner of my left eye and next to the bridge of my nose. I will say I was not much alarmed when I first noticed them, but did become alarmed when they didn't get any better.

Naturally I tried several home treatments such as ointments etc., and also went to eight Doctors but to no avail. Every one of the Doctors with the exception of one that I went to see advised me to go to a neighboring town and have Radium used. I did not approve of this and neither did other members of my family, and finally I decided to come to the Baker Hospital and see what could be done for me.

It really seems too remarkable to be true to say that after just two weeks of treatment I am going home cured of Cancer of the Eye and I feel in my heart that if I had not come to the Baker Hospital the Cancer would of no doubt eaten out my eye.

Very truly yours, Mrs. Emma Kildew, Wyconda, Missouri.

GROWERS GOING ON TOUR TODAY

Plots at Conesville and Fruitland to Be Inspected

Growers of Muscatine county and others from adjoining counties will participate in a tour of the melon fields and the Iowa agricultural experimental stations at Conesville and Fruitland today. The tour will begin at 9 a. m. from Conesville and will give truck growers an opportunity to observe the progress being made in the development of will resistant melons. Improvements in other truck crops will be observed.

The group will meet at the Conesville laboratory where most of the experimental work has been done under the direction of agricultural experts from the state extension department at Ames. The first stop will be made at the George Hoxsey farm where a commercial field of two will resistant varieties of melons, Dixie Bell and Pride of Muscatine will be inspected. The Pride of Muscatine melons will be inspected at the Roy Jean farm, and at the George Hoxsey farm, leaf and fruit shapes of different varieties of melons will be studied.

Returning to the Conesville station, the Round Iowa Belle variety will be inspected and a study made of the development and breeding of the Iowa Persian cantaloupe. At the Charles McCormick farm, an experimental plot and a commercial field of Iowa Kifing will be inspected. At the Fruitland station, a cantaloupe variety plot, a fertilizer test plot and a tract planted to crops new to Muscatine county will be observed.

Attempted Holdup Report Proves to Be Merely Rumor

Reports to the police of an attempted holdup in the vicinity of Weed park at about midnight Saturday night were investigated by a police squad but no trace was found of the man who had told others that occupants of another car had tried to force him to one side of the road.

The police found no car containing five passengers in the neighborhood. Those ones who were seen were not armed, the complaint, but the officers reported that there had apparently been a misunderstanding on the part of the man who said he had narrowly escaped being the victim of a robbery.

Unsettled Today, Temperature About The Same, Forecast

Wheat of a fair but mostly unsettled variety will prevail today, with little change in temperatures, according to government prediction. The temperatures on Saturday were practically the same as on Friday, the 7 a. m. reading on both days showing 68 degrees. Saturday, the mercury climbed slowly, reaching a maximum of about 88 degrees in the afternoon.

The Mississippi river dropped 1.1 feet on Saturday to a new low mark of 7.1 of a foot above the low water mark. This is the lowest mark recorded here in several years.

The wind on Saturday was from the south.

JUNIORTOWN OF CHAUTAUQUA IN STREET PARADE

Pets Displayed Here By Youths; Event To End Monday

A parade through the business district of the city Saturday morning by children was a feature of the junior chautauqua program, being conducted by Miss Florence Polson, in connection with the adult program here. The parade was augmented by the uniformed American Legion drum and bugle corps.

Heading the junior group's procession was Robert Sander, mayor of "Juniortown," who was dressed in a swallow tail coat and derby hat. He rode a pony. The rest of the parade consisted of a wide variety of costumes and carrying pets, followed him.

At the postoffice the group disbanded and gave a number of yells, and the following children went to the Chautauqua tent at Jefferson field, where they were awarded prizes.

For best costume—Bradford Bryan, first; Christine Moll, second. Mary's comedy costume—Mary Blain, first; Francis Highberger, second.

Boys' comedy costume—William Madden, first; Harold Blain, second. Best costume with a pet—Cora May Lemkau. She carried a rooster.

The next and final meeting of the junior chautauqua will be held at 10 a. m. Monday.

N. BAKER TELLS FARMERS THERE IS A WAY OUT

"On to Des Moines." The speaker made it clear that he did not seek to become the organizer of this group, but that nothing would afford him greater pleasure than to see such a body perfected.

The farmers hold within themselves the ability to become one of the greatest powers this nation has ever seen, the speaker declared, but the oppression of the Wall street capitalists who control many of the newspapers and govern the political leaders of the state, will only be discontinued when the farmers arise in their might and unite into a single organization.

Opposing Forces Strong That the forces which oppose the farmers unite into a single organization are exceedingly powerful was cited by the speaker when he told of the fight for his personal rights he has been forced to make. And because he battled for the farmer, the laborer and common people, Mr. Baker declared, his radio station K-TNT at Muscatine has been closed by the opposing element.

However, the farmer has not been deprived of a mouth piece, the speaker told his audience, and rounds of applause greeted his statement that the Free Press now has the largest circulation of any newspaper in Muscatine county. In spite of the fact that the Muscatine Journal and other capitalist newspapers, operated solely for the benefit of the owners and not making any efforts to secure justice for the farmer and the laborer, have constantly tried to suppress the Free Press is fast approaching the 9,000 mark in circulation, Mr. Baker said.

Mr. Baker said that he would continue with the fight of the farmer and seek to free this class of people from the shackles which now hold him. He said that when the circulation of the Free Press reached 30,000 it would be a powerful medium which would give the farmer a voice in national as well as state politics.

Cites T. B. Law As an example of the laws unfair to the farmer, Mr. Baker cited the law of T. B. Law, which he lauded. J. W. Lenker, "The Fighting Dutchman" of Cedar county, under whose direction farmers of Cedar county succeeded in preventing the test from being made there.

While the farmers are as much, if not more, interested than anyone else in selling milk free from tuberculosis, Mr. Baker said, those who learned the test as now applied was not infallible and for that reason opposed it. When the state department put in effect a way to test the milk or the cattle so that they can be sure it contains no tuberculosis germs, then the farmers will welcome it, he said.

The speaker was cheered when he said that although he has no political aspirations, if ever he were elected governor of Iowa, some ideas of general interest to the farmer and laborer, which he has in his mind would be immediately put into effect. Economy in government and fairness to all would be included in his platform, he said.

Previous to Mr. Baker's talk the "K-TNT Kids" furnished a program of vocal and instrumental musical selections.

Drainage Claims Are Approved at Special Session

Claims were allowed and other routine business transacted when the newly elected board of trustees of drainage district No. 1, in Wapishonoc and Goshen townships, met at the court house Saturday afternoon.

Members of the board are Scott McMahon, Ray Shetter and Milton Boyle. Harry Parry is clerk of the board. G. Albee, attorney for the district, met with the trustees.

Water Board Will Consider Bids on Repairs at Wharf

The water and light board of trustees will hold a special meeting next Wednesday night at which time bids for minor repair work at the municipal wharf adjoining the water and light plant will be considered.

James J. Ryan, recently appointed as a successor to the late James L. Giesler, will probably be seated at that time as a board member.

Ottumwa Men Held Here for Robbery Are Given Release

E. J. Bailey, Tim Greeley and Chester A. Smith, all of Ottumwa, held here in connection with the taking of $72 from the cash drawer of K-TNT filling station two weeks ago, were released Saturday, following their arraignment before Justice H. D. Horst.

Ellis Albee, attendant on duty at the time of the robbery, was unable to identify the men as those who drove to the station to have their car serviced and then removed the money from the cash drawer while he was so occupied.

Grasshoppers Wreck Iowa Alfalfa Crops

RAINDALL, Ia. (INS)—Nine acres of alfalfa in full blossom a day ago Saturday were as bare as a desert, grasshopper horde, the first seen in this part of Iowa, destroyed the crop Friday.

Farm Agents Will Be Busy All Week Planning for Fair

Another busy week is ahead for Farm Bureau workers who have been putting in extra hours in preparation for the West Liberty and state affairs. The schedule for this week, as announced by Mrs. Graye Rylander, is a heavy one.

Meetings are to be held each day except Friday, when Mrs. Rylander will take the Misses Alice and Vera Jenkins of the Fulton Four-H club demonstration team to Davenport. They will compete for district honors at the Mississippi Valley Fair and Exposition, and will present the demonstration that won them second place at the West Liberty fair last year. Their demonstration is "Modern Togs for the Baby."

Mrs. Rylander will meet with the Pike Lassies demonstration team on Monday, and on Tuesday afternoon, she will attend a club meeting of the 16 jewels from Cedar. She will give demonstration help on Tuesday morning to the Wilton Busy Bees at the Herr home.

Wednesday afternoon, she will assist Moscow township women with their demonstration at the home of Mrs. Newton Lang, and on Thursday afternoon she will meet with the Goshen Waspie club at the home of Dorothy Fulton.

OFFICERS RAID KOEPPING HOME

Local Man to Face Grand Jury; Bonds Fixed at $500

Waiving preliminary hearing when arraigned before Justice J. C. Coster on a charge of maintaining a liquor nuisance, Harold Koeppling, 807 West Front street, was bound over to the grand jury Saturday. His bond was fixed at $500 which he was unable to furnish and he was lodged in the county jail.

Chief of Police Mark Taylor, Deputy Menzo Grady and Officer Harry Tanner arrested Koeppling Friday evening after a raid on his home. It is alleged the officers found a small quantity of hooch and home brew.

A short time ago Koeppling was arrested on a charge of maintaining a liquor nuisance. At that time he was also bound over the grand jury.

40 Youths Attend Picnic of Future Farmers Saturday

About 40 boys, members of the Future Farmers' club and new students in the vocational agriculture classes of Muscatine high school, those who finished grade work this year and will enroll in September, attended a picnic at Rotary lodge Saturday. At noon a basket dinner was served.

A watermelon feed was also served. This is the second annual watermelon party to be held by the department of which Lindley B. Hoopes is in charge. Carl Rylander, county agent, also attended the picnic.

Robert Naber Will Show Calves This Week in Davenport

Two Holstein calf club heifers will be displayed at the Mississippi Valley fair in Davenport the coming week by Robert Naber, son of P. H. Naber, manager of the Seven Springs farm, according to an announcement made Saturday. Last year Robert's calf placed first in a class of 29 head of Holsteins and later, showing against all dairy breeders, heifer won the reserve championship.

The herd sire of Seven Springs farm is being shown this year with the P. P. Stewart herd of Maynard, Ia. He will be shown at all state fairs throughout the middle west and through the east.

State Millage Levy Denied by Tax Board

DES MOINES.—(INS)—Dr. J. W. Reynolds, chairman of the state board of assessment and review, Saturday flatly denied newspaper reports that the board has definitely decided upon the state millage levy for the coming biennium.

The levy will be made late next week in all probability, Reynolds stated Saturday.

CEDAR RIVER HEARING ASKED

State to Hold Probe Of Dumping Sewage Into Stream

transcript of the hearing earlier in the month. Not all of the cities to which orders were mailed this morning were mentioned in Weiler's report as offenders.

A large delegation from Cedar Falls, Waterloo and Cedar Rapids is expected to attend the hearings which will be held in senate committee room 22 at the statehouse, the scene of the other stream pollution hearing.

As was the case at the first hearing a transcript will be made of the testimony given at this hearing. From this testimony Dr. Steelsmith will determine whether such action as he took yesterday in the case of the Des Moines river cities will be necessary in the Cedar river cases.

Action on the matter by Dr. Steelsmith will probably be taken if at all, some ten days or two weeks after the hearing.

ARMY BAND HAS ANCIENT MUSIC

Seven Other Groups To Enter Contest Here Sept. 4

Music so old that its origin is obscured in the limbo of countless ages, will be played by the U. S. Army band when it appears at Jefferson field here on Sept. 4, under auspices of Muscatine merchants. A total of $2,500 has already been underwritten to guarantee expenses and also provide prizes for bands which will enter a contest to be staged in connection with the army band's appearance here.

According to tentative plans seven other bands will compete in the contest. They are the Wilton, Tippecanoe, Sigourney, Washington, West Liberty, Columbus Junction and Wapello community bands.

Included in the music which will be played by the army band is the Cashua and Huayno, "the Cashua" which will be presented during the evening program. This number, among others, was "discovered" by Daniel A. Robles, scientist and musician, while studying the peoples and ancient civilizations of South America. It is indigenous to the Incas of Peru, a people possessing a remarkable culture a long time before the coming of the Spanish explorers.

The "Cashua" was a favored style of song among them, and this one, "Ill Condor-Pasa" depicts the flight of the condor, the largest bird that flies above the snow covered peaks of the Peruvian Andes. Following this comes a drum interlude, a genuine Inca rhythmic figure, leading to the "Huayno," a native dance. In this instance based on the preceding song.

This is probably the oldest piece of music that still has sufficient charm to interest modern audiences.

Two Delegates to Grand Lodge Meet Named by Pythians

Fred C. Greshing, chancellor commander and A. F. Greshing, keeper of records and seals of Wyoming Lodge No. 76, Knights of Pythias, have been named delegates to the coming session of the Grand Lodge of the Domain of Iowa which will be held at Clear Lake on Sept. 2 and 3. Alternates are John C. Miller, master of work, and Frank Bishop, past chancellor commander.

At the regular meeting of the local Friday evening reports were received from the grand lodge officers, regarding the meetings. Business relating to the grand lodge was also discussed.

Further plans for the big district ceremonial to be held at Walcott on August 25, were also talked and arrangements made to send a large delegation from the local lodge. A number of candidates from Muscatine will be initiated into the organization at that meeting. The ceremonial will also be attended by grand lodge, past grand lodge and district officers.

Visitors Friday night included knights from Milwaukee, Wis., Henryman Unde, chancellor commander of Damon lodge No. 10, Davenport, and Glen Nickles, formerly of this city but of late years located at Reno, Nev., and Denver, Colo.

Alleged Beer and Wine Are Seized At Illinois City

A raid on a farmhouse near Illinois City, said to be rented by Muriel Roberts, conducted Friday evening by Rock Island county authorities, resulted in the seizure of 200 bottles of "home brew" beer, according to Sheriff Fred R. Schuler. Roberts, 41 is said, rents the house but does not operate the farm, which is located a mile east of the town.

The raid was made by Sheriff Schuler in company with Deputy J. L. Fowler, Ray Hanson and J. H. Padler, the latter of Illinois City.

Charge Lets Man With Sugar Theft; To Appear Monday

Robert Raiden, Rural Route No. 1, Lets, was arrested Saturday night at 7:40 at the Otto grocery on East Second street by the police charged with the theft of a 25-pound sack of sugar. He was charged with petty larceny and released on a bond of $20 to appear in court Monday morning.

VETERANS' NEWS

Drum Corps March By Harry Thompson Is Clever Number

Extreme interest is being shown in the drills and rehearsals held on Tuesday and Friday nights at the Legion home by the drum corps. These drills are well attended and good progress is being shown in both the foot work and the quality of the music. A new musical composition by Harry C. Thompson, nationally known concert drummer, and instructor of the local corps, was played for the first time at the Friday night rehearsal. This clever drum corps march is dedicated to the popular Drum Major J. Jennings, to whom the Corps is indebted for its brilliant showing at Davenport during the state convention.

Muscatine will soon have one of the best miniature drum majors who will strut his stuff alongside of Hil Jennings. Ruben D. Rasmussen, Jr., whose father is a member of the corps, is being trained to swing a baton and present indications are the young Rasmussen will soon be making his place at the head of the corps. Can that boy strut? Well, we just wait till you see him.

Donald Tierney has been appointed as quarter master sergeant of the drum corps and will have complete charge of all equipment.

During the Friday evening drill a new and clever movement was devised by Hil Jennings, a drill that to the public will look as though the corps suddenly got mad and decided to go home and then as suddenly changes its mind.

Although the corps is now well organized, there is always room for men who show real interest and

Legion Corps Will Meet Railroaders

This morning the Corps will act as a reception committee to welcome the folks attending the Rock Island railroad picnic. The Legionnaires will appear in full dress uniform and according to present plans will lead the railroaders to the picnic grounds.

On Sunday, August 23 the local American Legion post 27 will hold its annual stag picnic. This is one of the year when the Legionnaires have a day all their own. All Legion members are invited to attend and those wishing to may bring a friend. The picnic will be held at the M. and W. cottage on Cedar river. Legion Plans Stag Picnic Next Sunday

On Sunday, August 23 the local American Legion post 27 will hold its annual stag picnic. This is one of the year when the Legionnaires have a day all their own. All Legion members are invited to attend and those wishing to may bring a friend. The picnic will be held at the M. and W. cottage on Cedar river. Members of the Legion desiring any further information should be present at the next Legion meeting Thursday evening.

Corps Will Meet On Tuesday Night

Tuesday night, the corps will hold a business meeting at which time important decisions will be made. Plans for the coming conventions will be discussed and various other activities affecting the corps will be brought before the members for action.

Foreign War Vets To Fight Movement Started by A. M. A.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(Special)—Emphatic denunciation of a proposed movement designed to eliminate hospitalization privileges for veterans is expected when Sept. 5 by United States committee on Veterans Affairs.

A movement in this direction was recently launched by the House of Delegates of the American Medical Association, which passed a resolution urging congress to "abandon the policy of rendering hospital and medical benefits to veterans of the world war with non-service connected disabilities and substitute therefor a plan of disability insurance pensions."

The suggestion is not only preposterous and utterly selfish," declares Paul C. Wolman, commander-in-chief, "but thoroughly impracticable and inhuman. Those who sponsored this movement within the American Medical Association are destined to meet with violent opposition on the part of all veterans and all veteran groups."

Several cases in which Dell was scheduled to appear as a witness Saturday were postponed until Sept. 5 by United States committee on Veterans Affairs. The latter explained that Dell's testimony would be unacceptable until after the investigation of his practices, now under way in Washington, has been settled.

Meanwhile charges and denials continued to fly thick and fast in the Dell-Calahan case. Deputy prohibition administrator Allen S. Bartlett again denied that Miss Calahan was employed officially by the department.

The girl, who is still in a hospital awaiting assignment on a charge of drunkenness, does not know how "official" her position was. But she is certain she was paid seventy dollars in cash for her first two trips with Dell, collecting evidence in speakeasies and night clubs.

John Wilson Rites Are Scheduled for Monday at Creston

Final rites for John H. Wilson, who committed suicide Thursday noon on a country road about five miles west of Muscatine, will be held Monday afternoon at Creston, according to announcement made today. Burial will be in the Creston cemetery.

Corps Leads Junior Chautauqua Parade

Saturday morning, August 15 the Drum and Bugle Corps turned out to lead the junior chautauqua parade. The parade started at the Jefferson school and proceeded through the business section of the city. The corps holds itself in readiness at all times to aid the community in civic affairs of this kind.

FAMILY ROW IS FATAL TO TWO

SHREVEPORT, La.—(INS)—A man and his estranged wife were dead another woman was believed to be dying and a third was in a serious condition as a result of a shooting which followed a family quarrel on a residential street here today.

The dead were J. H. Atkinson, 42, insurance agent, and his wife. The injured were Mrs. Geneva Hanlin and Mrs. Alice Coons. Mrs. Hanlin was not expected to live.

According to police, Atkinson accosted his wife and Mrs. Hanlin, her sister-in-law, as they were walking along the street. A quarrel over the wife's refusal to return to her husband's home ended when Atkinson drew two pistols and started shooting.

In boiling vegetables which take a long time to cook, like butter beans or string beans, put a pinch of soda in cooking water. It will save gas if cooked on a gas stove.

Their next hop was a comparatively minor one of 450 miles from Karagin Island to Petropavlovsk, Siberia. From that point the flying Lindberghs will have a 900 mile flight to Nemuro in the Kurile Islands—regarded as extremely dangerous flying-territory. Dense fogs, sudden storms and frequent heavy rains are common over the Kuriles.

Fog Does Not Bother Flyers However, Colonel Lindbergh has shown that fog, the bane of most fliers, bothers him little. On nearly every leg of his light from Washington to Tokyo he has encountered fog and always managed to fly around or above it. On their flight to Karagin Island from Nome Friday, Mrs. Lindbergh twice reported they had encountered heavy fog.

The Lindberghs were expected to secure weather reports Saturday from Russian stations and ships before starting their hop for Petropavlovsk.

They were uncertain just what retreating facilities would be at their disposal at Karagin Island and Mrs. Lindbergh wireless before the plane landed there Friday night at 10:49 o'clock pacific standard time.

At the resolution of the flight would depend upon the facilities they found available there. Colonel Lindbergh had arranged in advance for a supply of gasoline to be stored there for his use.

DRY AGENT IS SAID 'IN BAD'

Refuse Testimony of Man Who Hired a Girl as Decoy

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(INS)—Ralph E. Dell, local dry agent accused ten days ago of having employed 19-year-old Ruth Callahan as a decoy in search of violators of the prohibition law, learned Saturday that his testimony will not be accepted in other cases here until that incident is settled.

Several cases in which Dell was scheduled to appear as a witness Saturday were postponed until Sept. 5 by United States committee on Veterans Affairs. The latter explained that Dell's testimony would be unacceptable until after the investigation of his practices, now under way in Washington, has been settled.

do later, if anything, remains to be seen."

Troops Ordered Mobilized Forty men of Troop F 12th cavalry, were mobilized at Tyler and ordered to be ready to proceed to Overton by bus at any minute. In Dallas, units of the 112th cavalry regiment were mobilized and expected orders at any minute to go to east Texas by train.

The Dallas troops number approximately 350 men and 25 officers. Troops also were mobilized at Fort Worth, Mineral Wells and Houston.

Adjutant General W. W. Sterling, at Austin, conceded after persistent questioning by newspaper men that "It's a pretty good guess that Governor Sterling is going to declare martial law in east Texas oil fields." He did not know, he said, whether an oil-well shut-down order would accompany the martial law proclamation, or whether the troops would be used merely to quell any possible "outbreak."

General Sterling said there are 1,000 men and officers in the sixteenth cavalry brigade and roughly 700 men in the Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and Mineral Wells units, all ordered mobilized.

Home Building Finances

Probably no subject so interests the average citizen as much as home building. The man who must each month put out a sum of money for rent is conscious at least once each month that he does not own his home.

When congress meets this winter it is more than likely that legislation will be sought creating a central mortgage bank which will be used to finance residential buildings. Except for the building and loan companies, there is no established agency in the country engaged in home financing in a large way.

Hundreds of bank failures throughout the country during the past few years have demonstrated beyond doubt that banks must keep more assets in liquid securities and long term mortgages on homes are not liquid. Yet, a very large number of prospective home owners, from necessity, expect banks to finance them.

The plan of the central mortgage bank is quite simple and would seem to offer the solution of the home building problem. The mortgages necessary to purchase or build a home would be discounted through the central bank and the bank would issue long term debentures against the mortgages and offer them for sale.

Some proponents of the plan believe the central mortgage bank could and should be established by the government. It is not at all clear just why it is necessary for the government to supply the funds to start this type of bank. It would seem that such a bank offers a sufficiently attractive prospect for success to invite investment on the part of private capital.

There is a huge amount of idle capital in this country today and few banking propositions would seem to offer better security or better prospects for earnings.

While it would be possible for the government to finance the central mortgage bank, it is hardly a proper governmental function and will not be a success if the operation of the bank is surrounded with the red tape and difficulties which greet prospective borrowers who approach the federal farm loan organizations.

The plan comprehends the regular reduction of the principal of the loans through stipulated amortization. This plan gives the home owner an assurance that his home will ultimately be paid for. One of the saddest features of the present depression is the loss by many of the homes for which they had saved and worked for many years because the mortgage came due and the bank holding it was unable or unwilling to renew.

There can be little doubt but that the present system of financing home building is haphazard and does not offer the flexibility a central mortgage bank would make possible.

Home building and real estate finance, in general, probably do not belong in the general banking business. It is a specialized kind of credit and long terms are essential to bring about the results desired. Short term credits are unwise in the building game.

Henry G. Zander, Chicago real estate and investment man, sums up the entire question very concisely. "Establishing a national rediscount bank for home finance along the general lines followed in other countries would be one of the biggest steps forward in developing still further the national tendencies toward home ownership of Americans.

"Home ownership, to be successful, must have for its incentive the ultimate ownership of the home clear of all indebtedness. The only way this can be accomplished is to permit the home owner to reduce his indebtedness as he earns his money, that is, in regular stipulated amortization.

"Through a rediscount bank, enabled to buy these amortized mortgages and issue against them debentures for long or short term, a perfectly safe, sound and economical method would be available to serve both the home owner and the investor."

The Lindberghs' Flight

Thus far, we have been unable to enthuse over the flight of the Lindberghs. There seems little or no good reason why such a flight is necessary from the standpoint of advance in aviation and, certainly, there could be no other reason for two persons of their prominence and responsibilities going on such a hazardous undertaking.

Lindy is a national figure. In a sense he belongs to the country and has always been outstanding as one aviator who was not stunting for publicity purposes or to obtain state fair engagements. He has apparently never made flights for the sole purpose of breaking a record hung up by someone else.

It is difficult indeed to understand how the parents of a year-old baby could take their lives in their hands, as the Lindberghs are undoubtedly doing on this flight, and go romping about the world in an airplane. In fact, it is pretty hard to understand how young parents could find it interesting to leave a year-old baby anyway, except as a necessity, if the separation was to be for any great period of time.

Lindy has done a lot for aviation, not only in the United States but in the world at large. He has conclusively demonstrated that he is without peer as a flier—but he also demonstrated that he has more luck than almost anyone else who flies. It looks very much as though he were flying (no pun meant) in the face of Lady Luck in attempting the present 'round-the-world jaunt.

What the real purpose of the flight can be, we are frankly at a loss to understand. There may be some weighty reason why it is necessary to find out whether the route the Lindberghs are flying is feasible. If there is such a reason, surely someone not burdened with the family responsibilities of the Lindberghs could have been found to attempt it. Apparently there is no dearth of fliers who have an itch to go places and do things.

In view of the many fatalities which have attended trans-Atlantic and trans-Pacific airplane flights, it would seem pretty conclusively demonstrated that the heavier than air machine does not offer enticing allurements as the proper vehicle for long-distance passenger or freight service.

For one, we will be glad when Mr. and Mrs. Lindy come back home and take care of the baby.

Iowa Chinese population is growing smaller—the electric washing machine probably caused that.

Our Platform for the People Is:

1. Less taxation.
2. Fewer State Commissions.
3. Universal school books.
4. Lower freight rates.
5. Return of river transportation.
6. A cleanup of some state institutions.
7. More efficiency in public offices.

Medical Fallacies

PUBLIC HEALTH PROPAGANDA CAUSES MORE APPENDICITIS OPERATIONS AND MORE DEATHS.

There were more than 18,000 deaths from appendicitis in the United States during 1928, according to a bulletin issued by the statistical bureau of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Records of policyholders also show that 1929 had one of the highest appendicitis death rates on record. Comparing the last period with the previous for which records were kept, an increase of 20 percent in the death rate from appendicitis was noticeable for white males and an increase of 14 percent for females.

Other facts regarding this disease obtained by a study of the records of Metropolitan policyholders were: The increase in fatalities have varied by age. For children under five years, the appendicitis death rate in 1925-29 was 11.5 per 100,000 for males, an increase of 128 percent. In females there was an increase of 92 percent. In adults, appendicitis was on the increase.

In explaining the recorded increase in appendicitis mortality in recent years, the Metropolitan company makes the following comment: "Of the recorded increase in appendicitis mortality in recent years, it seems to be due in large part to greater precision in reporting. Great care has been exercised in securing more complete statements of the cause of death from physicians and surgeons. 'Peritonitis' and other terminal conditions in appendicitis were not accepted after 1910 as reports of causes of death without qualifying and additional information on the circumstances leading to the condition. It is believed that the statistics included in this survey are as nearly complete as such data will be. Hence, the recorded increase in appendicitis mortality among these policyholders must reflect, by and large, a real change in the factors leading to fatal appendicitis. At the present time we do not know what those factors are."

With the statistical difficulty of incorrect reporting out of the way, we may try to account for the increased mortality. Certainly, the surgical risk has not increased for given types of cases; there has been an improvement in surgery.

The increased rate seems to be due in part to a greater effort on the part of general practitioners of medicine for early diagnosis and examination. In the case of tenderness in the abdominal region, nearly everything of that kind is called appendicitis.

In general health examination practice, between 2 and 3 percent of males examined in recent years show this condition of tenderness in the region of the appendix. There is an increased willingness on the part of patients to follow the advice of the doctor when told they have appendicitis; they are ready to submit to an operation.

Another reason according to Dr. F. Murphy, chief of the division of vital statistics, U. S. Bureau of the Census, is changed methods of living and the irregularity of eating and resting practiced by many American business men, they do not pay attention to the warning signals of nature and the fatality occurs often before any treatment can be given.

The rise in the mortality rate has taken place steadily since 1911. Dr. Murphy pointed out, in the face of a much lowered rate in surgically treated cases of appendicitis, of a wider appreciation by the patient of treatment and other facts that should have resulted in a reduced mortality.

Some years ago very few deaths from appendicitis were attributed to this cause, he declared, and the records show many deaths from such causes as intestinal poisoning and others that should have been classified as appendicitis. Particularly is this misclassification found among males, he said.

With the change in the mode of dressing among women, particularly the elimination of tight corsets and other tight apparel about the waist, the drop should have been tremendous, but has not resulted, Dr. Murphy said.

Another possible cause of the increase of appendicitis fatalities is the abuse and self-prescription of laxative medicines which may interfere with normal digestion and normal absorption, it was stated, but just how much these factors have contributed to the rise of fatalities from this cause is debatable.

It must be noted, Dr. Murphy said, that this rise in the cases of appendicitis which have not been surgically treated. People no longer have the horror of the knife that they once had and declared, and this has gone a long way toward increasing the number treated surgically.

The increase in fatalities has varied by age. Even among children under 5 years of age there has been a great increase in the period from 1925-1929, compared with the period 1920-1924. In 1925-1929, it was shown.

Dr. George Starr White declares that appendicitis operations and propaganda in favor of surgery is a racket, and that thousands upon thousands of good, sound appendices have been sacrificed to medical surgeons. Out of thousands of appendices removed not five bad ones were found.

Propaganda by health boards and others also have a strong bearing on the increased mortality rate in appendicitis.

WHAT HAPPENED IN THE BIG HEMLOCK TREE

When Drummer the Woodpecker broke off short his drumming on the big hemlock tree deep in the Green Forest and crying "Bees!" flew with all his might to a safe distance, Sammy Jay flew with him, for Sammy was of no mind to stay where there were angry bees. But Buster Bear didn't run. Not he! He gave a little grunt of joy and his greedy little eyes fairly danced as he stared up at the dead piece on the big hemlock tree where Drummer had started to drum. Around it the air was filled with a cloud of flying specks and the angry humming that was music in Buster's ears. He had found what he had been looking for so long, the storehouse of Busy Bee. He was so greedy for the honey that he knew was in it that he forgot his manners altogether. He forgot to thank Drummer the Woodpecker for helping him find that tree. He thought of nothing but that honey. With a grunt he began to climb that big hemlock tree.

"My gracious!" exclaimed Sammy Jay, who was watching from a safe distance, "don't you know that those bees will sting something terrible?"

"I hope they will!" snapped Drummer the Woodpecker. "If I had known that it was to rob Busy Bee of her honey that he wanted me to find hollow trees for him I would have been a different bird."

"No!" replied Sammy quite truthfully. "I didn't have the least idea what he was after. Listen!"

The humming of the angry bees had grown louder. Buster was half way up the tree and there was a perfect cloud of them around his head. It was very clear that they didn't intend to rob him. They were fighting for their own. Into the humming broke a sharp whine. Buster had stopped and was hanging on with one hand while with the other he was slapping off the bees and brushing them away from his face.

"He must want that honey more than I ever wanted anything!" exclaimed Sammy Jay as Buster began to climb again.

By this time there was a tremendous racket going on in the big hemlock tree. The bees were humming until the sound was almost a roar. Buster was whining and crying and snarling. But he kept on climbing, stopping now and then to slap at the angry bees and to brush an arm across his face. And those bees were busy. Yes, since they were busy! They were doing a lot more than hum. They were using those sharp little lances in their tails and every one they thrust into Buster Bear was like a red-hot needle.

"What is that fellow made of?" muttered Sammy Jay.

At last Buster reached the dead place in the trunk of the tree. Near the top of it was a little hole, and out of it still more bees were pouring. Buster saw it. He climbed a little higher and worked around on the back side of the tree where the bees were not so thick. Then he reached around and hooked the great claws of one hand in that little hole and pulled with all his might. There was a ripping sound, and a long strip of dead wood pulled away and Sammy and Drummer could see something yellow and glistening inside the hollow. Once more Buster reached around and hooked his claws over the edge of the opening he had made. When he pulled this time a big piece of wood gave leaving plenty of room for Buster to put his big hand inside.

In it went and out it came with a great mass of honeycomb dripping with honey. "Um-m-m," said Buster as he scooped it into his mouth. "Um-m-m-m." He hitched a lemon around where he could see what he was doing, and then he paid no more attention to those bees than if they had been so many flies. As fast as he could scoop it out he crowded the honeycomb into his greedy mouth, all the time making sounds which told Sammy Jay and Drummer the Woodpecker plainly that words could have that he was perfectly happy.

Give It a Thought

GLASS HOUSES How willing men are to throw stones in the city of glass houses. And how thankful if not thrown at themselves. They accuse others. But if they are accused of a fact, they try to convince others they are insulted.

QUARRELS When there is a quarrel between two bad men, it ends quickly. When there is a quarrel between a good and bad man, there can be but one ending. And that very quickly. But if it be a battle between two good men, it will never end—except in natural death. Or until each realizes his mistake.

NATURE'S REMEDY It is unnecessary to analyze mental problems. How did you suppose your good old Dad and Mother lived to bring you up. If not just good common sense? And when you burned your finger, you needed no proof. But the good old kerosene, flour and water. Covered with a strip from Mother's kitchen apron. Did the trick. There are too many salesmen to-day.

With the old remedies flavored. Just use common sense. And keep your blood pure by food and clean thought. That still is Nature's remedy.

SUMMER RESORT ITEMS

East Hampton, L. I. T. Lester Begonia, whose waterfront home, Glorious Vista, was wrecked by the storms last March, spends all his time walking around the grounds denouncing the insurance company that restored it for him.

The Jasonby Hostetters, IV, who elaborate card parties were a feature of life here for years, are back to play a bridge for a twentieth of a cent a point in the chauffeur's lodge. They have rented the big house to Mr. and Mrs. Jennings L. H. Samovar, who were fortunate enough to have all their money tied up by conservatives in 1929.

Doctors vs. Cows as Source of T. B.

Real Source of Tuberculosis Revealed—Cattle Test Myth Completely Exploded—Horrible Effects of Wide-Spread Feeding of Tuberculosis Germs to Children by Organized Physicians

By E. H. Buttler

(Food and Diet Specialist, Animal Husbandry Expert and Agricultural Lecturer)

WE have proved that doctors have no evidence of a single child ever contracting T. B. from cows milk and they know very definitely that all studies and surveys unmistakably show that children contract T. B. from persons with whom they have lived for some time or from continual contact with dwelling places that have harbored infected persons. The only exceptions are when one becomes infected, due to weakness of body with so-called galloping consumption which kills them in a short time, and the other is when doctors inoculate or inject or feed live, changed T. B. germs to a person. In this unnatural condition the infection is not only quickly accomplished but is of the most violent and fatal type. One more startling fact that we should keep in mind is that children of certain nationalities, such as Mexicans, Chinese and Japanese, which as a whole seldom ever have any cows milk to drink, have the highest record of T. B. infection.

All reliable data shows that the mortality of infants that are infected with T. B. is exceedingly high indicating that most infants infected with this disease seldom grow to maturity. Out of 137 infants in T. B. environment regularly examined and visited by nurses, observed mostly for more than a year, the results were as follows:

"Group A, born of tubercular mothers, 43 infants had T. B. Group B, born of healthy mothers but had tuberculosis contact, 64 found to have tuberculosis. The deaths from tuberculosis occurred in those who had not been ISOLATED AND WHO HAD BEEN IN CONTACT WITH THE INFECTION FROM THE BEGINNING OF LIFE."—Bulletin Society of Pediatrics, Paris, 26:345, July, 1928.

Childhood T. B. Not Source of Adult T. B.

Dr. G. J. Huet, M. D., says: "I accept the view that tuberculosis of adults does not develop directly from the tuberculosis of childhood. The lower percentage of infection of children occur in rural communities. Children usually acquire the disease from tubercular parents. Grand-parents, parents, brothers, sisters, servants or other persons in the home may have tuberculosis and be a source of infection to the child. If T. B. is suspected in a child, adult members of the house should be examined and if found to be tubercular, isolated."

Dr. A. Pleyte, M. D., has found "that among 150 infants living in tuberculous environment, 78 BECAME INFECTED BEFORE THE END OF THE FIRST YEAR. In a survey made in England, France and Sweden it was found that 24 per cent of the infants born of T. B. mothers or who are brought up in surroundings in which some member of the family have T. B., die of T. B. the first year of life."

Tuberculosis Infection Very Common

According to Dr. Linsley R. Williams, President of the National T. B. Association: "Between 50 and 90 per cent of people of this country carry about T. B. germs in their bodies. He believes that one tenth of these people are capable of spreading T. B. because they are giving off T. B. germs in their discharges."—Life and Health Magazine.

"We do not think that there is evidence that adult tuberculosis develops from the original childhood infection but that it is a reinfection."—Drs. Arnold R. Rich, M. D., and H. A. McCormack, M. D. Extracts from John Hopkins Hospital Bulletin 44,273, May, 1929.

In reprint No. 244 from the United States Public Health reports, "THE SPREAD OF TUBERCULOSIS," we find hundreds of definite instances of which the following are an average selection where children and other persons get T. B.:

Exposure the Proved Source of T. B.

"Five counties in Minnesota were studied. Of the complete exposure group, 74 per cent of those under 16 years of age and 81 per cent of those over 16 years of age show evidence of (T. B.) infection. Of the partial exposure group, 18 per cent of those under 16 years of age and 22 per cent of those over 16 years of age show evidence of infection. In the non-pulmonary groups containing 34 members there were 8 adults and 26 children. These adults and children showed signs of infection."

"The more frequent infection of children may be explained, at least in part, by their more intimate contact with the patient."

"GROUP 1; center case, A. B., died of pulmonary T. B. Nov. 20, 1911, after an illness of one year. Wife and three fully exposed. All children show physical signs and mother gives positive reaction to the Von Pirquet test."

"GROUP 4; center case, Wm. St. M. died of pulmonary T. B. April 7, 1911, fully exposing a group of four people. All of these showed evidence of infection."

"GROUP 5; center case, A. D., died April 15, 1911, of pulmonary T. B. fully exposing a group of three people. All of these showed signs of infection."

"GROUP 13; center case, T. H., died of pulmonary T. B. Nov. 11, 1911. After an illness of 5 years fully exposing a group of ten persons, all of whom showed evidence of infection."

"GROUP 14; center case, V. S., died of pulmonary T. B. Jan. 20, 1911, leaving an exposed group of five people, two of whom have died of tuberculosis and the remaining three show signs of infection."

"GROUP 37; O. S. This man and his mother represent a group from which five members have been lost from pulmonary T. B. in the last twenty-five years. Both show signs of infection."

"GROUP 4; E. E., died June 27, 1911, of tuberculosis. Three brothers and sister died of pulmonary T. B. One in an advanced case and other seven members of the group all show signs of infection."

"GROUP 22; center case, E. M., is an open case of T. B. and has fully exposed this group of eight. Seven show signs of infection and one is negative."

"GROUP 1; center case, H. M. Is an advanced open case of T. B. and has fully exposed a group of five others, all of whom show signs of infection. Four members of her family died of T. B."

"GROUP 9; center case, E. This group of five people was fully exposed by an open case of pulmonary T. B. All of them show signs of infection."

T. B. Most Prevalent Among Non-Milk Eating Children

We find in Reprint No. 824 United States Public Health Reports, there are many interesting things, for instance: In referring to persons with T. B. in Colorado Springs and Denver, Colo.; El Paso and San Antonio, Texas; Phoenix, Arizona; and Los Angeles, California, for which the study and report was made. We find the following: Country of birth, "Only one half (51 per cent) of all the cases recorded were born in the United States. About 7 per cent of them being negroes, 20 per cent were Mexicans found almost entirely in El Paso, San Antonio and Los Angeles. The largest proportion of Mexicans was in San Antonio where they constituted practically one half of all cases. In El Paso, they comprise about 45 per cent and in Los Angeles about 20 per cent. In addition to the Americans and Mexicans nearly every country of the world was represented among the remaining 29 per cent, the Russian Jews being 9 per cent. The report points out the problems in caring for these men and women, who go from place to place obtaining aid and scattering the germs of T. B. every where they go. For example, the report says, 'The large problem, then, involves not only the 27,000 patients living in their own homes, but includes the contacts in these homes. There were found to be in addition to the patient themselves, 10,317 persons in the immediate families of the patients living in households with them. Of this enormous number 5,371 or 52 per cent were children.'

T. B. Spread by Immigrants

"From this study we are able quite definitely to fix responsibility for much of this migration. A few states are responsible for most of it. They are, in order, Illinois, New York, Missouri, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Michigan. In the next group to the 'Big Six' come Indiana, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Minnesota, which together with those already mentioned furnish half of the migration to the southwest. Considerably over one half were advised to come by PHYSICIANS. That this group of 385 were largely a migratory one is shown from a classification of the length of time each person had been in the community before applying for aid in some form. For 46 the records did not show the length of residence of the 339 from whom data was available two-thirds had resided less than one year in the community, 158 or 47 per cent had resided three months or less and 17 per cent applied for aid within a week after arriving."

Public and Medical Neglect Spreads T. B.

Here is another tremendously vital bit of information, showing where persons come for medical treatment or financial aid. LENGTH OF SUPERVISION: "About one-fifth were under observation or supervision less than one month. For many it meant only a single visit to the agency. This point should be emphasized as it illustrates a fundamental defect in the agencies which are at present dealing with T. B. Generally speaking they do not give the necessary follow-up supervision which is vital to any plan for curing the tuberculous patient. In many cases the applicant comes to the office, temporary care or relief is given and the record lapses until the patient is again forced to return to the office for aid. What happens in the interim can only be surmised."

The largest percentage of persons with T. B. who travel from place to place, the records show, are "homeless men." The report says, "Where and how they live and what they do are questions that can not be answered. They come for temporary assistance, get it and are gone again until they need more help. If they are able to do light work they find employment until they again break down and have to quit."

"Twenty-three were known to have been employed during the year as cooks, waiters, bus boys and other helpers in hotels and restaurants in Denver, 12 of these in the third stage of tuberculosis. This figure by no means represents the total employed. Since it includes only those for whom enough information was known to make such an entry on the record, this condition constitutes a menace to the public health which ought not to be tolerated in any city today."

Appalling Results of Public Health Neglect

We now quote from Reprint No. 283, from the Public Health Reports: "A number of times in Colorado and Arizona towns, the writer, Dr. A. J. Lanza, Past Assistant Surgeon, U. S. Public Health Service, has seen advanced consumptives at soda fountains and these places are a rendezvous for children. Soda fountain attendants are particularly liable to be careless in handling glasses, cups, spoons, etc., and the writer has observed more than once an advanced consumptive put down his glass and spoon, which were then carelessly rinsed in standing water and placed on the shelf for the next customer. Soda fountain utensils are common eating and drinking devices in the most vicious sense of the word, and the danger to children under these conditions is most apparent. Migratory consumptives may become dangerous to the community in which they locate by securing employment in places where milk or other foodstuffs are handled." (The writer wishes to add that this is true all over the U. S. in every town and city.)

Further on this same government report gives an example of how T. B. spreads.

"C. M., marble polisher, who lived in Philadelphia all his life until 1911, then began wandering through Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, out to California, back to Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Wyoming, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, and then back to California, staying a few weeks or months in each place. From California, he beat his way back to Denver, applied for aid Nov. 4, sent to hospital and died 15 days later."

Thousands of such cases may be found in every state in the union. We quote again from the government report on "Migratory Consumptives in the Southwest."

"The problem in Cleveland is a family one. Of the 3,443 cases recorded, only 538 or 15 per cent were persons who were not living with their own families. For nearly 200 the record did not show whether the patient was with his family or not. The problem involves not only the 2,729 patients living in their own homes, but includes the contacts in their homes. In addition to the patients themselves, there were found to be 10,317 persons in the immediate families of the patients living in the household with them. Of this enormous number, 5,371 or 52 per cent were children."

"The tuberculosis nurses who were charged with visiting the patients in their homes and urging them and their families to come to the clinic, are required to do many other kinds of public health work, which keeps them from doing T. B. work as thoroughly as they might."

"These defects in the tuberculosis service. More than one-half of all cases were Mexicans. The migration problem is a serious one in border or near border cities. Many migrants get in without examination, by coming over the border without passing through the immigration stations."

Our Defective T. B. Health Service

There are no facilities for physical examinations, the need for which is evidenced by our records that along with the 331 cases which were accompanied by their families there were 1,176 other persons in their households, one-half of whom were children."

"Phoenix also had the largest proportion of non-residents among the tuberculosis group studied, 89 per cent of the cases falling among this group. Many of the cases were persons going to California who stopped off at Phoenix to try the climate. One-fourth of all the non-residents had been only a week or less in the city before applying for aid; 60 per cent had been there less than three months."

"There were 1,669 cases who were living with their families. In addition to the patient there were 5,516 other members of the household, of whom 3,300 were children under 16."

"As was the case in the southwestern cities, the largest age group in Cleveland is the age group of 25 to 29 years, about one-sixth of all cases being in that age group. CONTRARY TO THE USUAL IDEA THAT TUBERCULOSIS RARELY OCCURS IN OLD AGE, THERE WERE 73 OVER 60 YEARS OF AGE."

We are still quoting from government reports due almost entirely to the fact that it is necessary for health center nurses to do other kinds of public health nursing, especially communicable disease work which is urgent, and which requires such a great part of their time."

Our Wholesale Importation of Disease

"During the past year at domestic ports, 19,529 vessels, 933,035 passengers, and 1,134,906 seamen were inspected on arrival by quarantine officers. At foreign ports 5,401 vessels, 544,127 passengers, and 366,762 seamen were inspected prior to embarking for the United States. Of the passengers who embarked at European ports, 40,047 were vaccinated and 92,663 were deloused under the supervision of medical officers of the service."

"The number of cases of cerebrospinal meningitis arriving at Pacific ports from the Orient increased so rapidly during the winter season of 1928-29 that the available facilities at the commands of the local health authorities at San Francisco and Seattle became over-burdened."

"At domestic ports 973,974 alien passengers and 984,771 alien seamen were examined under the immigration law by medical officers. Of this number 24,939 passengers and 1,951 seamen were certified for various diseases and disabilities coming under this law. The more important causes of certification were trachoma, tuberculosis, insanity, feeble mindedness, and venereal diseases."

Doctors—Not Cows—Milk—Spread T. B.

Healthy persons as well as sick ones are getting the tests, injections and inoculations of live T. B. germs under the guise of prevention. Call it prevention if they want. It makes little difference what the doctors find it advisable to call their wholesale infection of the people, it still remains NOTHING BUT DECEPTION AND GRIFT. There are a number of different methods and products used openly and we are advised there are others which doctors use without the consent of the patient; for instance, giving a concoction in a tablet or along with food without the knowledge of anyone.

The commonly used T. B. products are as follows:

OLD TUBERCULIN—pure culture of bacterium tuberculosis.

TUBERCULIN OINTMENT—pure culture bacterium T. B. in ointment.

TUBERCULIN RESIDUE—a virulent culture of bacterium T. B. dried.

BACILLEN EMULSION—virulent T. B. germs dried and emulsified with glycerine.

BOUILLON FILTRATE—a bouillon culture of bacterium T. B., and others.

The most common methods of inoculating persons with these T. B. spreaders are:

Sub-cutaneous test (Koch). Cutaneous test (Von Pirquet). Percutaneous test (Moro). Intracutaneous test (Mantoux). Ophthalmic test (Wolff-Kieser and Calmette).

The only difference between each of the products and the several different methods of using is that different manufacturers and agencies have control of the germs before the doctors get them for general use. Some products are bad, others worse, but as a whole they are all Damned Rotten and the method of giving is only a question of technique or style.

How the Doctors Give Patients T. B. Germs

They are all chuck full of deadly T. B. germs. One kind is given by mouth, another rubbed into the skin of the chest in the form of ointment, another is injected into the body, another is put into the eyes, and so on. If one does not infect a person the other will. The theory of the doctors is that when these tests are made, if the person has T. B., a reaction will develop which indicates the person has T. B. EASY ENOUGH FOR A DOCTOR TO GET POSITIVE OR NEGATIVE RESULTS JUST AS HE PLEASES, because after receiving one test most anybody would be tuberculous, but often they try two or three different kinds of shots, which is the usual procedure.

By this method doctors claim they are able to determine whether or not a person has the disease and also to make those tested immune to T. B. infection.

No fooling, when a fellow has every drop of fluid in his body floating with tubercle-bacilli, he is immune. Who wouldn't be? When we have all we can put into a thing, we cannot put in any more. But why bother filling up on medically cultivated tuberculosis bacteria, when if you are left alone there is less than one chance in a hundred that you will be troubled by the real nature-made germs?

"Dr. Brodin recently reported a study of the preventorium child among 300 children. He proved that many children have been sent to preventoria with a diagnosis of tuberculosis of the tracheo-bronchial glands without presenting any real symptoms; moreover in those cases in which a tracheo-bronchial gland infection existed without a doubt a former diagnosis had not been previously made."—American Journal of Diseases of Children, Dr. Arnold Delille, M. D., Dr. G. Lestocquoy, M. D., Vol. 38 No. 6—Dec. 1929.

An Orgy of Germ Poisoning

"Children to the number of 7,668 from birth to 13 years were given the mantoux T. B. test from January 1, 1921, to January 1, 1929, in the children's medical division of Bellevue Hospital New York. It does not include many children that were admitted for tuberculosis. Most of those tested being admitted to the hospital for minor complaints and other illness."

"For four years of the period up to January 1, 1929, two Pirquet tests were done on all children at the same time, 3,118 in all."

"In Minneapolis schools 2,118 children were tested."

"In the babies hospital, New York, 49 per cent of patients were tested."

"In St. Louis some doctors test all children under two years."

"Children numbering 2,071 were given the Pirquet test by the health department of Massachusetts."

"TUBERCULIN IS OF DOUBTFUL EFFECTIVENESS, BUT seems to help in some cases. An important fact which must be considered in any form of the treatment is that the DOSES CONTAIN LIVING TUBERCLE BACILLI WHICH ARE A POTENTIAL SOURCE OF GENERAL INFECTION"—Dr. Richard H. Miller and William M. Shedden, M. D., American Medical Review 19-511, May, 1929.

Appalling Results from T. B. Germ Feeding

"In certain sections of North Carolina 25,048 children were given the intracutaneous T. B. test."

"Since 1922 Doctors Weill, Haller, Turpin and their associates have been making a carefully controlled investigation of the value of B. C. G. as a preventative measure against T. B. Special clinics were established for treatment and regular examinations of a corps of nurses visited the homes."

"A report is given of four infants who received B. C. G. during the first days of their lives. The first patient died at 18 months of age of tuberculosis meningitis; at 10 months of age the second patient showed a positive Pirquet reaction; on roentgen examination a widespread tuberculosis involvement of the lungs. The child died a few days after the examination. The third patient died at 5 weeks of age. The fourth showed at 4 months of age a positive Pirquet reaction and on roentgen examination a bronchial gland tuberculosis. Since, in the case of the last two patients inquiry failed to disclose any history of tuberculosis contact. The author is inclined to put the blame on their vaccination with B. C. G."—Dr. McIntosh, M. D.

Quoting from N. J. Sproule, Academy Pediatrics, 8:315 Dec. 1928:

"The symptoms the clinical progress and the results of bacteriologic studies of three children with meningitis caused by Rack Weeks Bacilli are reported. NONE RECOVERED."—Dr. E. F. Hirsch, M. D., (Quoting Munchener Medical Schuch.)

The Slaughter of Innocents

"Dr. Hamburger found that 80 per cent of infants infected before they were one year old died."

"Dr. Pollak found a mortality of 85.7 per cent among twenty-one infants infected during first six months of life. Drs. Cohen and Dunn reported a mortality of 83 per cent in children under 24 months; Dr. Brown found a mortality of 70 per cent among 144 children under two years."

"Drs. Zweig and Nussim, reported that all of 20 children infected during first three months of life died."

"SERUM KILLS 41—85 INFANTS ILL."—By Associated Press, Luebeck, Germany.

"DEATHS FROM INOCULATION WITH (B. C. G.) ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS SERUM HERE HAVE REACHED A TOTAL OF FIFTY-ONE. EIGHTY-FIVE INFANTS ARE ILL."—Los Angeles Evening Express. (Writers note: We have referred to this vaccine elsewhere.)

Another news item from Budapest said:

"Five more babies have similarly succumbed to this particular serum at the children's hospital at the city of Ujpest. Autopsies performed sections through the lungs of the five children were infected with T. B. although they had given no signs of the disease when they entered the hospital."

"The treatment of tuberculosis as a disease has made no progress because of the time wasted in animal experimentation. Had the time been better employed, maybe we would by now, have a solution of it. No one will ever know the damage done by the infection of T. B. matter. Many must be in their graves from what has been going on and by their own admission research doctors say nothing has been accomplished for good."—Dr. Wilbur J. Murphy, M. D.

"Every individual in the public health work, from the chief surgeon of the United States Public Health Service to the nurse in ward school is dominated by manufacturers of serums and vaccines and don't know it. Our State Health Director and medical societies are absolutely saturated with exactly the same kind of propaganda that these manufacturers wish them to further propagate to the masses of people. I wish to God that some organization would give the TRUTH of this nasty business to the public. When this is done there will be fewer monstrosities and wrecks among our children and we will learn to prefer injections from sick animals which is a medieval superstition with a commercial foundation."—Dr. T. Roy Barnes, M. D.

"The human race is making millions of vaccine manufacturers."—Dr. J. W. Hodge, M. D.

GRID DEPRESSION UNLIKELY THIS YEAR IN BIG TEN

REQUESTS FOR TICKETS PROVE REFORMS' FAIL

Several of Big Games Are Already Seen As Sellouts

Words of cheer are few and far between these days so when some good news comes along it is pounced on with enthusiasm. And here is some from the athletic offices where the pre-season football activity is gaining momentum.

Northwestern University claims a sellout for the Illinois game at Evanston is a certainty this year. And Ohio State is equally certain that both the Illinois and the Navy games in Columbus will be sellouts.

This news is justified by the early rush for reserved seats for these big games in the Big Ten territory. And that isn't all—athletic office men at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor report the early season demand for football tickets this year is better than it has been in several seasons—in fact the best it has been since 1927, the year Michigan dedicated its new stadium.

Depression, Reforms Fail
The depression, and the various football reforms instituted throughout the country appear to have failed in checking football enthusiasm in the middle west.

The games mentioned are not looked upon as the classics of the year in the Big Ten. There are other games which look even more attractive from the fans' standpoint.

For instance there is Notre Dame and Northwestern in Chicago, October 10. And Yale and Chicago at Chicago, October 17—and the same day Ohio at Michigan, always a capacity crowd.

And Michigan's game with Illinois in Champaign, October 24, and Minnesota at Michigan Nov. 21.

Many Exciting Battles
The Big Ten schedule is full of excitement from end to end. The first Saturday in October, the first Notre Dame plays Indiana at Bloomington, Pitt plays Iowa at Iowa City, Nebraska invades Evanston to meet Northwestern, and the Oklahoma Aggies furnish the opposition for Minnesota at Minneapolis.

The second October Saturday sees Michigan and Chicago at Ann Arbor, Vanderbilt at Ohio, Purdue and Illinois at Lafayette, Alabama Poly at Wisconsin, besides the Notre Dame-Northwestern brush. Minnesota plays at Stanford that day and Iowa meets the Texas Aggies in Dallas.

On October 17 Yale meets Chicago at Chicago, Indiana plays at Iowa, Ohio at Michigan and Purdue at Wisconsin. University of California at Los Angeles, plays Northwestern at Evanston.

Wisconsin goes east to play Penn. and Purdue to Pittsburgh to meet Carnegie, October 24, but the other teams furnish excitement at home with Indiana at Chicago, Michigan at Illinois, Iowa at Minnesota and Northwestern at Ohio.

Michigan goes east to play Princeton October 31. Purdue at Chicago, Ohio at Indiana, Illinois at Northwestern, Wisconsin at Minnesota, are the big games in the middle west.

Wisconsin at Illinois, Indiana at Michigan, Minnesota at Northwestern, Navy at Ohio, and Iowa at Nebraska are the big games Nov. 7. Though two of them are with outside foes.

Nov. 14 sees Chicago at Illinois, Indiana at Northwestern, Iowa at Purdue, Ohio at Wisconsin and Michigan State at Michigan. The Big Ten season ends Nov. 21 with Minnesota at Michigan, an old time rivalry affair; Purdue at Indiana, another of the same; Iowa at Northwestern, Illinois at Ohio, and Wisconsin at Chicago.

Not to mention three more home games Notre Dame has with well known opponents—Pitt October 24, Penn. November 7, and Southern California November 21.

Prospects Are Bright
The middle west season has bright prospects. The schedule is interesting and the fans seem anxious to get a sheet or two off the calendar.

Football prospects are not dark in any section this fall, especially where outstanding games are scheduled. Some of the less important games may show a falling off but there will be as many capacity crowds, perhaps more.

THE CITY OF LAWDALE, CALIF., CONTAINS 14,323 VERSES AND HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS DEAD

DANTE'S "DIVINE COMEDY" WAS PRINTED IN A BOOK LESS THAN HALF AN INCH SQUARE

THE LAST MAN AT BAT ROBBED ALEXANDER OF HIS ONLY NO-HIT GAME...

LIZZIE, of the Geth Parker broadcast, CAN NAME ALL THE BOOKS OF THE BIBLE IN 15 SECONDS...

Hundreds of thousands of dead rest in the tiny town of Lawndale, California, yet in the great adjacent city of San Francisco there is not a single cemetery. Lawndale is truly San Francisco's Necropolis for it contains all the ten available cemeteries of that city, which bound themselves together and in 1924 became Lawndale, the City of Memorial Parks. Though no part of any other city, Lawndale is really the terminus of San Francisco's Park System. Four-fifths of its area is owned by cemeteries and besides a number of memorial plants, a few nurseries and florists, most of the remaining land area is farmed.

For twenty years Grover Cleveland Alexander tried to pitch a no-hit game and failed, although he won more games than any other National League hurler. On one occasion he came within an ace of attaining his goal while pitching against Pittsburgh. For nine innings he turned the opposing batters down in short order until Hans Wagner, the last man up, kept him out of the no-hit Hall of Fame with a home run. Similarly, that wonder southpaw, the eccentric Rube Waddell, was never able to register a no-hit game, although like Alex he pitched several one-hit contests. Oddly enough, Waddell's nearest approach to a hitless affair was spoiled not by the Last man up, but by the First, Ty Cobb, who beat out a bunt.

The microscopic edition of Dante's "Divine Comedy" contains 500 pages barely more than a third of an inch square. This tiny edition was published in 1834 and exhibited at the Paris Exposition in 1882.

BOOSTERS WIN CRUCIAL GAME

Heinz Players Beaten By Downey's Team At Jefferson

Outfitting their rivals 8 to 4 and playing good ball in the field gave the Downey's Boosters a much needed win over the Heinz team in their crucial factory league game on the Jefferson field Friday evening, 6 to 3. In the only other game played the Lions downed the Court-house Demons in an American League battle on the old diamond at Week park, 11 to 2.

A victory over the Iowa Metal Works team Monday evening on the new diamond at Weed park would clinch the pennant for the Boosters but should they lose it would drop them back into a tie with Heinz for the leadership again. Box scores: (8)

Chicago Team Wins Legion Tournament
OTTUMWA, Ia. —(INS)— A squad of boys representing the South Chicago Post of the American Legion Friday won the right to enter the legion's all-western junior baseball tournament at Colorado Springs, Colo. August 20, 21 and 22. The Illinois champions defeated St. Louis, 11 to 1, to win the regional championship.

SENATORS NOSE OUT BROWNS IN 12 INNINGS, 3-2

Hadley Rescues Bob Burke of No-Hit No-Run Fame

ST. LOUIS, Mo. —(INS)— Bob Burke had no luck Saturday in celebrating the first weekly anniversary of his no-hit no-run game, but Irving Hadley, Burke's relief man, came in for a lucky victory when the Washington Senators shaded the Browns 3 to 2 in a twelve inning match.

Walter Stewart, Browns left-hander, allowed a hit in each of the last five innings, whereas, the Washington hurlers held the Browns hitless during that period. Buddy Myers, doubted to open the twelfth inning, was sacrificed to third by Manush and scored when Cronin hit sharply to Storti who stopped the ball but was unable to make the play at the plate. NET TITLE WON BY JACK LYNCH
CULVER, Ind. —(INS)— By defeating Jay Cohn of San Francisco, Calif., in straight sets Saturday, Jack Lynch of Taft, Calif., won the national junior clay court championship here.

Lynch defeated his fellow Californian 6-2, 6-4, 9-7. Frankie Parker of Milwaukee won the national boys' singles championship when he defeated Gene Mako, Los Angeles, 7-5, 8-6, after an uphill battle.

Kendall Cram of Nashville, Tenn., and Judge Beaver of Gainesville, Ga., won the national junior boys' doubles title when they eliminated Cohn and Lynch, the two finalists in the singles play-off.

OUTSIDER WINS GOSHEN STAKES
GOSHEN, N. Y. —(INS)— Calumet Butler, a five to one outsider, today held the reins in the trotting world and the rich Hambletonian stakes. Under a hard drive by Dick McMahon, 62-year-old horseman, the Kentucky-owned colt beat Reno, second choice in the betting, in the rich stake here Friday.

A crowd of more than 10,000 saw the veteran driver urge over Calumet Butler by less than half a head in a dramatic third heat.

The colt was caught in a bad jam going around the first turn when Sutor went to his knees and was eliminated.

Chief John Corbett quickly extricated Chief John from his difficulties and the colt then raced up to the leaders where Corbett took him under mild restraint.

Iowa will play three intersectional football games this fall—with Pitt, the Texas Aggies and George Washington University.

DENVER —(INS)— Bud Cabbie, southpaw pitcher for South Denver high school, has been signed by the St. Louis Cardinals, it was learned Saturday.

Cabbie, who celebrated his seventeenth birthday last Sunday, will report next season and probably will be farmed out to Springfield in the Three-Eye league. Cardinal scouts were attracted by the Denver boy's ability when he starred in a recent tournament here.

SHAM ROCKS BY IRISH

There was a time when the baseball writer went on a long vacation at the close of the season. But not nowadays. There is news to cover the whole off-season period. This coming off-season for instance, looks like one which might make the sports page every day. New managers are being talked of in Pittsburgh, Detroit, Chicago (two) and Brooklyn. Then, if the Cards and A's win out, the greatest shifting about of players since Federal league days, is expected. The other clubs must do something out of the ordinary to check the A's and the Cards. The A's are powerful and have young material to continue powerful. The Cards have a wealth of material. If one man falls there are a half dozen to replace him. The Cubs, Giants, Dodgers, Senators, Indians, Yankees and other so-called contenders, are not getting anywhere.

Two baseball records which likely will survive a long time are Ty Cobb's 96 stolen bases in 1915, and Babe Ruth's 60 homers in 1927. The trend is towards the less lively ball and encouragement for the pitcher. That means fewer homers. Then, too, Ruth was a superman in this respect and even with a lively ball to hit it is not at all probable someone would come along to beat his mark. The country's fandom is a bit excited over Ben Chapman's base stealing this year but his season's total will fall a long way short of Cobb's mark sixteen years back. Baserunning went out when the lively ball came in and now they've got to work up to it slowly. In time fellows like Chapman will get the competitive spirit and we'll see the annual totals grow and grow. Some day another super speedster like Cobb may come along and beat the mark of 96. That will be easier of accomplishment, perhaps, than reaching Ruth's homerun total. The trend is towards faster baseball—making a hit go farther in the day's results.

Since the world began we have discussed some famous legs but right now the legs that are most in the limelight are those bearing Joe Boley of the A's and Babe Ruth of the Yanks. We hear that both pairs are giving way—that their owners may be forced to less active fields in the very near future. There is, in fact, some doubt that Mr. Boley has been entirely candid about the age of his legs. Joe is one of those fellows like Jack Quinn—coming up from the Pennsylvania coal fields to play ball after a few years spent digging coal. If Joe's legs give way Connie Mack will have to put in one of his youngsters and these youngsters look mighty good, anyhow. So the worry is more or less individual. But in Babe's case it is different. He is a national hero, more than a cog in the Yankees, just a contending team. If Babe's legs give out the game loses its greatest figure. Babe hasn't used us as to the age of his underpinning—it's just a recognized fact that a great big giant of a fellow should have had stronger legs to begin with. They've done remarkably well at that.

Three famous contenders for fistic titles have about reached the end of the trail. Sharkey and Stribling, heavyweights, and Slattery, light heavyweight, certainly cannot claim that they never had a chance. On innumerable occasions each man has had an opportunity to forge to the front but turned in a poor performance. Perhaps Slattery has had more flings at a championship than any other well known fighter in modern history. The Buffalo boy has always been a topnotcher and for a long time it was the argument that if he would cut out the night life and train faithfully he could easily win. But he tried that, too, and the fight he turned in against Rosenbloom was one of the poorest attempts of his career. Stribling just fell short, or perhaps he burned out in his frequent fighting over a long period of youth. Sharkey's failure seems to be in a mental attitude for he certainly has taken care of himself and hasn't fought often enough to be worn out.

PHILLIES TAKE DOUBLE HEADER FROM PIRATES

Chuck Klein's 27th Homer With Two on Wins Vesper, 3-1

PHILADELPHIA —(INS)— The Phillies took both ends of their double-header from the Pittsburgh Pirates here Saturday afternoon, when Chuck Klein sent across the Phillies three runs in the nightcap with his 27th home run of the season in the third inning. The score was 3 to 1, while the opener favored the locals, 5 to 4.

Bolen and Watt hurried for the Phillies in the second game with Bolen getting credit with the victory, while Heine Meine hurled the complete game for Pittsburgh. Box score second game:

RUTH'S 32ND HOMER AIDS YANKS BEAT TIGERS, 7-5

TERRIFIC BLOW GIVES YANKEES 16 INNING WIN

Bambino Is Now Tied With Lou Gehrig in Home Run Race

DETROIT, Mich. (INS)—Babe Ruth's 32nd home run of the season was the blow that broke the Tigers' back in Navin field Saturday afternoon as the Yankees beat the Tigers by a score of 7 to 5 in 16 innings.

Ruth's terrific smash was followed by Gehrig's double and Lou scored the Yankees' final run on a single by Cy Perkins. When Ruth's wallop rode over the fence, the flight of the Bengals went with it. Lefty Gomez entered the game for New York in the ninth inning and pitched in his usually brilliant style. The gallant Castilian registered his fourteenth win of the season.

New York overcame what looked like a winning lead for the Tigers and tied the score in the eighth inning. Tony Lazzeri's triple in the fifteenth put the Yankees ahead by a run but Rogell's homer in the last half of the same frame knotted the court and then along came Ruth.

Ruth's home run, in addition to providing the winning punch for the Yankees, gave the great Yankee slugger a tie, at least temporarily, with his team-mate, Lou Gehrig, in the race for major league home run honors. Gehrig and Ruth are now far in the lead of the pack with their 32 circuit blasts.

"Old Roman" To Celebrate 72nd Birthday Today

EAGLE RIVER, Wis. (INS)—The "old roman," otherwise known as Charles A. Comisky, owner of the Chicago White Sox, celebrated his 72nd birthday here Saturday. For 64 years he has been active in baseball.

Since he assumed ownership of the club, the Sox won five league championships and two world championships. Comisky started his career by playing first base with the St. Louis Browns in 1882. He later became manager of the Browns.

GABBY STREET NOT GABBY ON WORLD SERIES

Cardinal Manager Is Non-Committal in Regard to A's

BY LES CONKLIN
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Boasting a lead of nine and one half games, the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals rode into the polo grounds Saturday for a four-game series with the second-place Giants no more croakier than a prize fight between Tom Heeney and Johnny Risko.

But to Gabby Street, manager of the Cards, the four-game set is of paramount importance.

Voicing the general opinion that the Cards and Athletics were practically "in," the writer asked Street for his slant on the coming world series.

Not Talking Now

"I'm not breathing a word about the world series until we actually have the pennant lashed to the mast," replied the ultra-conservative Gabby.

"Do you figure the A's will be easier to beat than last year?" asked the writer.

"I'm tickled to death at Jim Bottomley's comeback," answered Gabby. "I always figured he was the best first baseman in the league."

Cards Get Break

The writer pointed out that the Cards will get a break this year in that the world series will start in St. Louis.

"Rhem has lost a lot of tough games lately," pointed out the sarge. "He's just been unlucky; he should have won fifteen games by now."

"Are you going to use Collins in the world series?" interrupted the interviewer, becoming desperate.

"You can say for me without any qualifications," concluded Gabby as he edged toward the dining room, "that Derringer is positively the best pitching find in the big leagues this season."

Huff Is Winner of Kansas State Open

INDEPENDENCE, Kas. (INS)—Gerald Huff of Oklahoma City, late Saturday, won the men's singles championship of the 1931 Kansas state open tennis tournament by defeating Fred Royer, of Dallas, Texas, twice holder of the tournament title, 6-4, 7-5, 3-6, 4-6, 6-2.

Huff and Royer paired to win the men's doubles title from Richard Rosebrough and Proctor Wright, St. Louis, 6-2, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

BROKEN BACK Ed Duffy missed much of last football season at Loyola College because of a broken back. But he says it is O. K. again and that he will be back in the lineup. This summer he is a life guard.

ton took it, 1 to 0. Sherdel was almost as good in the vesper, which went to the Braves 3 to 1. It was Brandt's fifteenth success.

None was out in the ninth inning, the bases were flooded and the Sox leading by only two runs over Washington, when Vic Frazier was rushed in to save the game. Vic Fanned two, walked West to force one run, and forced Bluege to ground out, the pale hose rolling it away, 5 to 4. Jones was the losing hurler.

Coffman hurled fair ball while three Boston pitchers were powerless and the St. Louis Browns triumphed, 12 to 2. Melillo and Kress captained the Browns' attack.

The champion Athletics and Detroit were not scheduled.

Here's Hoping They Still Fit the Old Master!

TOURNEY DATE UNDECIDED YET

'Y' Officials to Set Definite Time on Monday Night

Y. M. C. A. officials will decide after Monday night's contest between the Iowa Meial Works and Downey's Boosters just when the tournament to decide the city kitenball champion will be held: Should the Iowa Metals win it would necessitate a playoff between the Heinz team and the Boosters.

A. J. Lindley of the "Y" announced that he would make no definite plans as to how or when the tournament would be held until after Monday's game. It is thought, however, that the three winners of their respective leagues, Figg's Tire Shop of the National, Elks of the American and either Downey's Boosters or Heinz of the Factory league would play under the floodlights at the Jefferson field on some two nights next week. One team will draw a bye and the other two will play to see who will meet the lucky team.

Mr. Lindley has not decided as to whether an admission will be charged or not. Trophies for the league winners are on display at Zoller's jewelry store with the large 12 inch trophy which goes to the city shamp also on display there.

The tournament should be a hard fought battle with Figg's Tire Shop team looming as the strongest contender for the city championship. However, the Elks at times play unbeatable kitenball and boast several members who in past years played on strong baseball clubs of this vicinity while either the Boosters or the Heinz team would give the American or National league champion a good battle.

Shade, Oster Will Meet Monday Night

CHICAGO (INS)—Dave Shade, middleweight warrior, and "Willie" Oster of Boston are in training for their ten-round bout Monday night at White City.

Move Browns to Cincinnati, Reds to Detroit, Suggestion

By LES CONKLIN
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK—A Gotham fan comes forth with the suggestion that to stimulate interest in certain baseball cities, the franchisees of the St. Louis Browns and the Cincinnati Reds be transferred.

He would move the Browns to Cincinnati, giving that city a representative in the American League, and transfer Cincinnati National League club to Detroit, giving the motor metropolis clubs in both leagues.

The following reasons are advanced in support of the suggestion:

1. The "Cincinnati Browns" would become natural rivals of the Cleveland Indians, in the same State.
2. The novelty of American League teams playing regularly in Cincinnati, giving many Rhineland fans their first view of such players as Grove, Simmons, Cochran, Ruth, Gehrig, et al., would create a tremendous baseball boom in the Queen City, which is tired of watching its present tail-end outfit.
3. Detroit, with a rapidly increasing population, will be a red hot baseball city with the return of normal business conditions.

4. St. Louis is unable to support two big league teams at present. So much for one side of the argument.

One objection to the plan will be that any blow at the established order of things is sure to cause a furor. While Cincinnati might not object too vigorously to the replacement of the R-eds by the Browns, St. Louis fans would be sure to resent the implication that they are unable to support two big league outfits.

Were any move started to take the Browns out of St. Louis, Mound City fans do not turn out to see the club play five times a year would be sure to set up a terrific squawk. Such is human nature.

As a matter of fact, the Browns, with a flock of young players, are making excellent progress this year and their improvement has resulted in increased attendance. Bill Kill-efer is building up a promising club which may be a serious pennant contender in a few years.

The Man Who Wins

Any man can go without many comforts before he can safely dispense with a savings account. It is his paymaster in time of idleness, and his insurance policy against sickness; it is protection for his loved ones in case of death, and above all it is his testimonial of manly self-denial, industry, forethought and independence. Luck and fortune play but little part in the drama of modern industrial life.

It is the man who works every day he can and saves what he can, who wins. He wins because he is the most fit.

Coach Staggs of Chicago Passes 69th Milestone

CHICAGO (INS)—Coach A. A. Staggs, "the grand old man" of football at the University of Chicago, will celebrate his sixty-ninth birthday today.

To show it his age has little effect on his physical condition, the veteran coach went out on the courts Saturday and whipped his 20-year-old son Paul at tennis. Coach Staggs said he had little intention of resigning as long as he was in good health.

His birthday will be celebrated quietly at home.

POISONING OF HORSE RESULTS IN STABLE BAN

Sinclair Barred From Overnight Entries At Saratoga

SARATOGA RACE TRACK, Saratoga, N. Y. (INS)—The Ranococas stable, owned by Harry F. Sinclair, the millionaire oil magnate, Saturday, was barred from making further entries in overnight events at the Saratoga meeting as the result of an investigation into the poisoning of the filly Ladana just before the Burnt Hills stakes on Thursday.

The action taken by the stewards of the Saratoga racing association was one of the most drastic handed out in recent years against a major stable.

The following statement was given out by assistant secretary Algonon Daingerfield:

"At a meeting of the stewards of the summer meeting of the Saratoga racing association, the following resolution was adopted:

"In the case of the Ranococas stables, filly Ladana, entered for the Burnt Hills handicap, Aug. 13, but scratched by the stewards owing to her condition," the stewards find the filly was admittedly poisoned, and take occasion to condemn the management of the stable for not having taken measures to prevent the same.

"They consider the incident as scandalous, and calculated to impair confidence in racing, therefore:

"It is ordered that no further entries by the Ranococas stable to overnight events be accepted during the meeting."

PHELPS UPSETS LARRY JOHNSON

Arizona 'Cowboy' Is Winner of Main Go At Chicago

CHICAGO (INS)—Owen "Cowboy" Phelps of Arizona, Friday night claimed an upset victory over Larry Johnson, Chicago colored light heavyweight.

Battling under a 13-pound weight disadvantage in the featured ten-round bout at Denemark stadium, Phelps was given the decision after displaying a perfect defense.

The semi-windup was captured by Dave Maier of Milwaukee when he lowered Ed Willis of Chicago twice in the first round and pummeled him so heavily thereafter that he was awarded a technical knockout in the sixth.

According to rumors from France, Henri Cochet will become a tennis professional in the fall.

BRITISH DAVIS CUP STAR WINS WAY TO FINALS

Perry Defeats Sutter In Semi-Final of Eastern Meet

BY MICHAEL J. FOSTER
RYE, N. Y. (INS)—Fred Perry, British Davis cup star, made an impressive entry into the final round of the eastern grass court tennis championships here Saturday afternoon, defeating Gregory S. Mangin, of Newark, N. J., 6-3, 7-5, in the semi-final.

By his victory Perry atoned for the defeat of Sutter after Sutter had him here last year. The southerner was the second American ace beaten by the Britisher, Van Ryn, American Davis cup star, having bowed in straight sets to the Englishman Friday in the quarter-final round.

Perry Surprises

Perry surprised everybody, spectators and Sutter himself, by the manner in which he scored his victory. Abandoning his usual forcing net tactics, the Englishman played almost entirely from the backcourt to outsteady Sutter and come out on top.

Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans and Bruce Barnes, of Austin, Tex., reached the double semi-final late Saturday by defeating Fred K. J. Perry, and George Patrick Hayes, both of England 7-5, 13-11. Their match was interrupted Friday on account of darkness after Sutter and Barnes took the first set 7-5, and went 11-all in second set.

J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange qualified for today's meeting with Perry by subduing Gregory S. Mangin, of Newark, N. J., 10-12, 6-2, 6-4 in the supplementary semi-final contest. Hall was far too versatile, far too fast, and far too superior in regards to control for his New Jersey opponent.

Doubles Matches Today

John Van Ryn and George M. Lott Jr., both of Philadelphia, ended the day even in their semi-final doubles with Lester Stoefer and Jack Tidball, both of Los Angeles. The latter team, by sensational work overhauled, won the first set 10-8 and barely lost the second 4-6. The match will be concluded this morning.

Darkness caused a halt in the semi-finals of the double championship. The Pacific Coast pair and holder of the National title court title, Ellsworth Vines Jr., Pasadena and Phil Gledhill, Santa Barbara, eliminated Clifford Sutter, New Orleans and Bruce Barnes, Austin, Tex., 6-2, 10-8.

C. Ross Somerville Defeats Yates for Canada Golf Title

ROYAL MONTREAL GOLFCUB Dixie, Quebec (INS)—C. Ross Somerville late Saturday successfully defended his title as amateur golf champion of Canada by defeating an American invader, Arthur "Duck" Yates of Rochester, N. Y., three and two in the 36 hole final match here.

Yates was five down when the pair turned for home on the final nine when he staged a brilliant rally capturing the 30th, 31st, and 32nd holes in succession to become only two down. The next hole was divided, but on the 35th and 34th, Somerville broke through to win both holes and match when Yates required three strokes to get on the green.

GIANT RECRUIT BEATS PIRATES

NEW YORK—Inasmuch as a lack of good pitchers prevented the New York Giants from making a serious threat for the National League pennant this season, there was considerable excitement Saturday about Jim Mooney.

Mooney (what a grand name for a New York ball player—almost as fetching as Goldstein) made his debut on Friday against the Pirates of Pittsburgh and turned them back 2 to 1.

If Adolfo Luque, the Brooklyn hurler, had only bitten somebody or hit an umpire, it might have been news, but as it was he just pitched pretty fair ball, while Paul Derringer was pitching better and the St. Louis Cardinals again humbled the Robins, 9 to 3.

fourth straight win of the Cards over the flock and swept St. Louis into almost a ten-game lead. A double fumble by Slade, Robin shortstop, in the eighth, permitted the champions to rally and come triumphantly from behind.

Phillies became inspired about something and rose to the heights in the second inning, driving Bush of the Cubs to the water, and before Sweetland and Baechi could silence them, had scored seven runs. Bengie, the Phil's hurler, fed the Cubs only seven hits and had a perfect day at bat himself, whacking four hits. The score was Philadelphia 14, Chicago 4.

Lou Gehrig marked up homer No. 32 and Babe Ruth got his No. 31, but Averill's four-baser with three on was more important and the Cleveland Indians checked the New York Yankees 13 to 7. They came right back in the nightcap with limiting the Yanks to six hits and snatched the second game, 9 to 1.

Brandt could be found for only six hits by the Cincy Reds and Bos-

CAMPAIGN ENDS 10 P.M. SATURDAY NIGHT

--DETAILS OF FINAL COUNT--

In order to maintain the utmost secrecy as to the number of subscriptions turned in by each candidate this, last week of The Midwest Free Press Big Automobile and Cash Campaign, the race will be brought to a close under a Sealed Ballot Box

No subscriptions whatever will be accepted through the campaign department this week, but instead, candidates themselves will deposit their final collections in the SEALED BALLOT BOX located at the American Savings Bank, corner Second and Sycamore streets, this city. And by so doing, no one, not even the campaign manager, or the publishers, can possibly know the voting strength of the respective candidates, which precludes any possibility of favoritism and insures fairness to the minutest degree.

Locked and sealed the Ballot Box has been placed in the lobby of the American Savings Bank, where it will remain until the closing hour of the campaign, 10 o'clock Saturday night, August 22nd. When the final hour arrives the campaign will be declared closed. The judges will break the seals, unlock the box and immediately thereafter, or as soon as votes can be issued on subscriptions contained therein, the last count will begin. The winners will be determined by adding the vote totals, earned up to the close of the third period to those contained in the ballot box. There will be no waiting; no complicated count, but simply a matter of adding the vote totals and announcing the winners.

It is calculated that it will take some time, however, to canvass the findings in the box and to determine the winners. The official results will be published Monday in the Midwest Free Press.

Read
This
Carefully

Heretofore out-of-town candidates have had the privilege of mailing their letters containing subscriptions from their home town at the closing of various "periods." This will not be permitted the last night of the campaign. ALL VOTES and SUBSCRIPTIONS MUST BE IN THE SEALED BOX WHEN THE RACE IS CLOSED AT 10 O'CLOCK.

OUT-OF-TOWN Candidates --Attention:

Out-of-town candidates should, where it is possible to do so, arrange to deposit envelopes in person at the bank, but where this can not be done, letters containing final remittances should be addressed to CAMPAIGN DEPARTMENT, THE MIDWEST FREE PRESS, MUSCATINE, IOWA, and plainly marked FOR THE SEALED BALLOT BOX—NOT TO BE OPENED. Particular care should be taken to post such letters in good time to reach this office before the final hour, and it is advisable that they should be under a special delivery stamp.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

All subscriptions deposited in the sealed box must be accompanied by cash, money order or certified check for the full amount to cover. Personal checks up to $39 are acceptable, provided no two checks are signed by the same party. This is made in all fairness to all candidates and will be strictly adhered to.

Last Period

Embracing the last week, terminating August 22nd, the following number of votes and points will be issued on subscriptions:

VOTE SCHEDULE	POINTS SCHEDULE
1/4 year 500	On $300 Special Prize
1/2 year 1,000	1/4 year 3-4
1 year 4,000	1/2 year 1 1/2
2 years 30,000	1 year 3
3 years 40,000	2 years 6
4 years 95,000	3 years 9
6 years 160,000	4 years 12
	5 years 15
	6 years 18

A special ballot good for 100,000 votes will be issued on every "club" of $20 turned in. This is in addition to regular number of votes allowed on every subscription secured up until 10 o'clock Saturday night, August 22nd, in the last hour of the campaign.

Judges

A number of local men will be asked to act as judges, to canvass the findings of the Ballot Box and to award the prizes. The members of this committee will be gentlemen who are well known to everyone in Muscatine and the surrounding territory, and the final results given out by them will be beyond dispute.

Morning Sun

MORNING SUN, Ia. — (Special)

Mrs. P. W. Thompson of this place received word of the death of her sister, Mrs. Otto Frick, aged 40, which occurred at her home in Bement, Ill., Wednesday evening, Aug. 12. Mrs. Frick is survived by her husband, several children, her mother, Mrs. Mary Collins, and the following brothers and sisters, Andrew Noble, and Earl Collins and Mrs. Emma Danielson, all of Bement, Ill., and Mrs. P. W. Thompson of this place. Funeral services will be held Friday at Bement and burial will be there.

Mr. and Mrs. Albin Davis of Mediapolis came Wednesday evening to see the latter's father, C. F. Hewitt who was hurt in a collision with the Rock Island passenger train Wednesday afternoon at the crossing about one-fourth mile south of his home. Mr. Hewitt was not seriously injured.

Mrs. Florence Gordon and daughter Susannah of Monmouth, Ill., returned to their home Wednesday, after spending several days with Mrs. Gordon's sister Mrs. Dwight Nichols.

The Hewitt-Hamilton reunion will be held August 19, at Mt. Pleasant. Mr. and Mrs. J. Delzell, of Dayton came Thursday for a week-end visit at the S. H. Delzell home northeast of town.

Mrs. Ada Swartz and grandson, Wilbur Feldman, of Keokuk, visited Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Curran of this place.

Mrs. J. C. Hunter and son Robert, of Wichita, Kan., and Mrs. Esther Mehaffy, of Holton, Kan., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. McClure south of town.

Mrs. Leonard Owens and daughter Virginia, of Cedar Rapids, are visiting Mrs. Owen's grandmother Mrs. George Howe and aunt, Miss Anna Howe.

The Hawkeye Tribe of Louisa county, including all who have attended the school of religious education at Oakwood, will have a treasure hunt at Locust Grove park Friday evening. An invitation is extended to all Hawkeyes of the county.

The district officers of the Council of Religious Education will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. John Wilson of this place, Friday evening. Plans will be made for the district convention to be held at Marsh, August 30. Doyle Bozman is the district president. Mrs. Ray Cornic, living west of town was appointed as member of the Louisa county board of education at a meeting of that body, held at the office of the county superintendent, Mrs. Smith, Monday evening. Mrs. Cornic will fill the vacancy made by the removal of Mrs. Carl Thompson, formerly of this place, who moved last spring to a farm near Des Moines.

The Morning Sun consolidated schools will open August 24. The teaching staff has been completed and is as follows: Superintendent, Wayne D. Allen; high school principal, M. H. Chambers; athletic coach, Oather Cummins, Blakesburg; Chester Hood, Atlantic; Esther Stark, Traer; Constance Peirce, Burlington; Ethel Ellis, Victor; Bernadine Burge, Mt. Vernon; Viola Harshbarger, Mr. Pleasant. The grade teachers are: Mrs. M. H. McDonald, first grade and grade principal; Mrs. Lois Honeyman, Lili Kemp, Helen Jones, Bertha Thompson, Doris Owens. A cut of $1.133 has been made in the salaries for the year. The custodian of the high school building is J. T. Carters, with John Curran assistant and M. S. Hutcherson at the grade building. The cut in their salaries will amount to $220. Two new Chevrolet buses, fitted with Wayne bodies have been purchased by the school board for use in transporting the children from the rural districts.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Relief Corps was held Tuesday afternoon in the Mason hall, with a good attendance. Two new members were initiated into the corps, Mrs. Mable Carman and Miss Exie Bazel. Plans were made to organize a junior corps and Mrs. Gladys Kerr was appointed junior advisor.

Fred Congrove of this place was arrested Monday night by Sheriff George Oakes and Deputy F. T. Schwob, and placed in the Louisa county jail at Wapello, awaiting arraignment on a charge of being in-placated in the theft of the cur meat from the Avy Bowers who shed last Thursday evening.

Berton Harris, son of Mrs. L. Harris north of town, who was rendered unconscious in a car accident near Wapello, still remains unconscious in the Burlington hospital after 15 days of almost 360 hours after the accident. The outcome is doubtful, although attendants appear hopeful.

Charles Crawford, of this place who is in the Mercy hospital suffering from a severe gunshot wound in his hip, is reported to be improving. Crawford was shot in the hip by Avy Bowers when he attempted to steal a quantity of cured pork from the Bowers' wood shed last Thursday night about 8:30.

Moscow

JUDGE RUTHERFORD SAYS:

"When the peoples of the nations of the earth are confronted with a condition that threatens their very existence, it is time for calm and sober thought that, if possible, the cause may be ascertained and that the true remedy may be embraced. To refuse to consider or publicly discuss such unhappy conditions for fear of provoking controversy, is worse than folly.

"The truth is not controversial with those who are honest. Truth reveals what the people need to know.

"That nations of the earth are now in sore need of the truth. The radio is one of the ways Jehovah God has provided to get the truth to the people, and every radio station on earth should be diligent to broadcast the truth to the people in this very serious time in the affairs of men."

RADIO STATIONS WOC, Davenport and WHO, Des Moines, 1000 kc., are broadcasting these facts to the people EVERY SUNDAY MORNING from 10:00 to 10:15 and EVERY SUNDAY AFTERNOON from 5:30 to 6:00 o'clock.

"Know the Truth and the Truth Will Make You Free."
